HIS CHEST'S EXPANDING

Yoga Gets Practical Testimonial From Swami's Disciple-Reporter

Times reporter Humphry Davy two weeks ago started a course in Yoga with Swami Shivanand and wrote a series of articles about it. As a result of the interest shown in this series, Reporter Davy, who has about completed his preliminary course, has been asked to write a further three articles telling what it has done for him. The first follows:

By HUMPHRY DAVY
I'm still alive, well and healthy. No broken bones no burst blood vessels.
This is my reply to enquiries as to my progress in the Eastern practise of Yoga which began two weeks ago under my mysterious Hindu teacher, Swami Shivanand. It began as an experiment, an investigation or adventure into the unknown. Now it is beginning to show outward results.
My wife, whose critical eye I have come to respect, tells me my chest has expanded at least an inch in the past week.
This, I must confess, is a

Charge Reds Seek To Force Concessions

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Dec. 6 (AP).—Communist true negotiators are using Allied war prisoners as hostages in an attempt to extort concessions by "blackmail," the United Nations command charged tonight.

The Reds angrily rejected an Allied request to discuss the exchange of war prisoners under an armistice agreement, while the negotiators are still discussing means of enforcing a truce. North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Song Cho said that the Reds "will not give any answers about prisoners of war" while the stalemate continues on the truce-enforcement issue.

"Negotiations 'blackmail,' Allied spokesman Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckolls said.

"Those of us at the meeting felt something of the implication of 'blackmail,' briefing officer Lt. Col. Howard Lewis said. It was obvious that the Reds knew the anxiety of Americans over the fate of 10,856 Americans listed as missing in action. The Reds have reported to the international Red Cross the names of only 174 prisoners. Secondly, the Reds do not seem to care about the fate of their own men whom the Allies hold. Some Red commanders hold men who get captured have failed their duty. In Thursday's meeting here, the Allies refused categorically to abandon the American troop rotation program for the sake of an armistice.

The U.N. command also rejected a Communist demand that it withdraw from "coastal islands and waters" north of the cease-fire line.

U.N. Planes Concentrate On Red Guns

SEOUL, Korea, Dec. 6 (AP).—Allied airmen made 107 attacks on front-line Communist field guns today in an all-out campaign to make Korea's twilight war even quieter.

The change in United Nations air support tactics came as U.N. jets tangled with the Reds the 11th successive day—a record for continued air war. One Red jet was reported shot down, one probably destroyed and another damaged. The air force said no Allied planes were hit.

Pilots who hit Red artillery said they destroyed 35 guns on the western front.
This would be the equivalent of more than a whole Red artillery regiment's guns. Red guns have harassed U.N. infantry since the twilight war began November 28.

Perennial Mayor Wins Ladysmith

LADYSMITH.—Leonard Ryan, perennial mayor of Ladysmith, was elected again by acclamation today as there were no other contenders for the post with the closing of civic nominations at noon. Also elected by acclamation was Alan Carey to the one-year term caused by the resignation of former alderman Hugh McKenzie. Four men will seek election to the council for two terms of two years. They are Aldermen A. T. Verchere and P. R. Battle, and Axel Anderson and W. Bernard Churchill.

Appeals May Win Back Drivers' Parking Fines

About 100 motorists of this area who were prosecuted in city police court for parking meter violations during a period in November have a way open to get their money back.
This was revealed today by majority candidate C. L. Harrison, former city prosecutor.

The summonses were those dated between Nov. 9 and 21, which were laid under the old street traffic and regulations by laws before the amended by-law was officially brought into operation by police, Harrison said.

source of secret satisfaction to me because when I saw my physician a month ago he told me my chest was touching my backbone. I gathered from that he meant if I was minus a head he would have difficulty telling my back from my front. They both looked alike.

My physician, a great humanitarian, saw my dejected look. He quickly assured me most people had chests like mine. The few who had chests for exhibition on public beaches had usually nothing in them.

I'm only telling you all this because this somewhat confirms what my Swami has to say on the subject.
Well, you will ask, how did I get my chest to blow up, so to speak. This was accomplished mainly by Yoga nip-ups and strange and mysterious breathing exercises.

These pulmonary exercises are amazing. I now do those body twisting exercises holding my breath. I also have to breathe and concentrate on my nose, of all things. I have to control and tune my breathing to a rhythm. Breathing must be done through the nose only.

Swami tells me if I persist, in two months I will be a different man and in six years I will be able to hold my breath for 20 minutes.
"But take your time," he warned. "You don't want to die yet, do you?"

"I felt rather hurt, because my teacher seemed more concerned about the feelings of my friends than my death.
Like yourself, I look on these breathing exercises rather strangely. The only time we westerners are taught breath control is when we are learning to swim like fishes. Now, here comes a young man from the East who tells us we are all wrong. We should learn first to breathe properly on land.

And frankly, I think, he's right. As an experiment to test the power of my lungs, I walked up a steep hill breathing only through my nose. I was snorting like a bull when I got on top. Now, imagine how difficult it would be trying to play a basketball game 'breathing through the nose only.

What is Swami's objective behind these exercises? Well, apart from health, he tells me it is the first step towards control of the mind.
What does he mean by control of the mind?
That would make another story.

Bennett Joins B.C. Socreds

Fiery Okanagan 'Rebel' Joins Forces Of New Provincial Political Group

W. A. C. "Cece" Bennett of Kelowna, the fiery rebel from Coalition, has abandoned his plans to form a new Independent political party in B.C. Instead he will throw his weight behind the Social Credit movement and fight for victory of a Social Credit government in B.C. at the next election.

Bennett made his intentions known in a telephone call to the Times today from Kelowna.

For the present, he said, he is joining Social Credit as a private individual, but announcement immediately created speculation that he will seek to become the political leader of the group in B.C.

Social Credit sources here say a party convention probably will be called next summer to decide on a leader. Undoubtedly Bennett's name will come forward.

At present the party organization is headed by Lyle Wicks of Vancouver, as provincial president, during the Easter annual meeting. However, as president, he is not the political leader of the movement.

Bennett's announcement was made as a statement to the Kelowna electors who sent him to the Legislature in 1949 as a Conservative Coalitionist. Bennett bolted Coalition ranks last session, along with Mrs. Tillie Rolston, Point Grey. He conducted a spectacular attack on the government when supporting Cmdr. A. C. Wurtele in the Esquimalt by-election.

His statement said:
"When I reported to you at meetings in the Empress Theatre, Kelowna, during the Easter annual meeting of the British Columbia Legislature, I stated in answer to questions as to whether I would form a new provincial party, that I was a person who did one thing at a time and that I would inform the electors of my constituency, South Okanagan, immediately a decision was made.

"During the months since that time I have studied the provincial governments of all Canada and the problems and opportunities facing our province of British Columbia.

"I have come to the belief that a Social Credit government, similar to the one operating in our neighboring province of Alberta, would be the best for our province and our people—government based on free enterprise—opposed to monopolies either of the right or left—a government of free people.

"I have therefore decided to join the Social Credit movement."
Mrs. Rolston was asked if she, too, might join Social Credit.
Her answer: "I haven't given the matter any thought."

Rifles, Hoses Used To Halt Tehran Riots

TEHRAN, Iran, Dec. 6 (UP).—Three persons were reported killed and more than 200 injured today when police, troops and angry nationalists clashed with a Communist mob in the heart of Tehran.

Police fired machine guns over the heads of the Communist demonstrators in a clash in Tehran's parliament square. Troops and police then used rifle bullets and fire hoses in an attempt to smash the riot.

An angry mob of anti-Communists massed in the square shouting "down with the servants of the Kremlin."

The anti-Communists obtained clubs in a nearby building and returned to the square to tangle with the Communists.
The Communists fell back to a Red partisans "peace club" while the anti-Communists celebrated their "victory" in the square.

Members of the pro-government tollers of the Iranian nation party then charged the club where at least six persons on each side were injured in a violent fight. The "peace club" was smashed.

Will prosecute
The anti-Communists shattered the furniture. They ripped to shreds a feathered picture "dove of peace." Pictures of Joseph Stalin, were dragged from the club and torn up in the streets.

Deputy Premier Hossein Fattemi ordered police to prosecute the anti-Communists who took part in the club raid.

Egypt To Fire U.K. Experts In Her Forces

CAIRO, Dec. 6 (CP).—The government has decided to fire all British experts attached to the Egyptian armed forces and recall her military mission in Britain.

This latest move in the Anglo-Egyptian canal zone dispute was announced today by Abdel Fattah Hassan Pasha, acting war minister, as steel-helmeted police patrolled Cairo to enforce a state of emergency.

Demonstrations were banned throughout Egypt Wednesday night after 30 anti-British demonstrators were wounded in a clash with police here. The canal zone was quiet.

The war minister said all Egyptian officers and men attending courses in Britain would be told to return to Egypt immediately.

(Figures announced in the British House of Commons Monday showed 51 Egyptian men training in Britain—18 navy officers and ratings, 11 army officers and 22 air force officers and men.)

A British military spokesman said the latest gun battle broke out Wednesday night near Kantara, between Ismailia and Port Said, when Britons caught Egyptian civilians cutting a British communications cable.

Duncan's Mayor Wins Unopposed

DUNCAN.—Mayor J. C. Wragg was elected by acclamation today for another year when civic nominations closed at noon.

Standing for election to two-year terms on the City Council will be Alderman John T. Dobson, George W. Highmore and I. P. Dobbins.

Running for election to a two-year term on the District 65 School Board are William F. Richter and Percival R. Leighton.

PRICE OF EGGS TUMBLING HERE

Egg prices tumbled in Victoria today, following the pattern set earlier in the week in other Canadian cities. Price decline here ranged from 11 to five cents a dozen on the producers' level.

Grade "A" large, for which poultry farmers were getting 51 cents, dropped to 40. Grade "A" medium, which were at 47, came down to 37. Grade "A" small, which were at 44, slid to 35. Grade "B's" tumbled from 40 to 35.

Cannot Fill Arms Quota —Churchill

LONDON, Dec. 6 (AP).—Prime Minister Winston Churchill disclosed today his government has given up hope of fulfilling Britain's three-year, £4,700,000,000 arms program on schedule.

At the same time, he told the House of Commons, he thinks there is less danger of a third world war now than at any time since the Berlin airlift crisis in 1948.

Churchill declined to say how much Britain would fall short of meeting its rearmament targets, but said it would be unable to spend on time even the £1,250,000,000 budgeted for the armed services during the current year.

In a speech that opened a debate on the defense policies of the new Conservative government, Churchill credited the United States, Britain and other nations of the free western world with creating "deterrents against aggression" that have lessened the danger of world conflict.

"MORE UNLIKELY"
He said it was his government's feeling that, as the deterrents have increased, "the danger of war" has become more unlikely.

Churchill declared it is the "desire and intention" of the Conservative government to proceed as quickly as possible with the rearmament effort begun by the previous Labor regime.

Churchill, who is also minister of defense, said British military men are worried over "the slow progress made in developing the Royal Air Force, especially in the supply of the latest machines."

He added: "We must not forget that the Soviet air force is formidable, not only in numbers but in quality."

Churchill and Clement Attlee, former Labor prime minister, clashed sharply over Churchill's assertion that the Labor government by a 1948 agreement had permitted the United States air force to set up bases here for using atom bombs against Russia "should the Soviet become aggressive."

Churchill said the step taken by Attlee "places us in the front line should there be a third world war."

Attlee protested that it was "never suggested" that the U.S. air bases here should be used for delivering atom bombs to Russia. But Churchill snapped back: "That is the impression which, however mistakenly, they seem to have derived."

MANILA, Nov. 6 (AP).—Raging Hibok Hibok volcano spewed out a new rain of fiery ashes tonight in its fourth major blast in three days. Additional casualties were feared.

Official reports from the terror-stricken little south Philippines island of Camiguin said naval patrol boats moved close in shore to pick up survivors at Mambajao on the northern coast.

The latest eruption from the mile-high inferno was reported to have occurred at 4 p.m. (3 a.m. E.S.T.).

Some 200 persons, mainly Chinese storekeepers and their families and Philippine army troops, had remained in Mambajao.

So far 209 bodies have been recovered. Official estimates say 500 made probably are buried in a six-square-mile area covered by lava and volcanic ash.

POISONOUS FUMES
It may be a week before total casualties in Tuesday's eruption are known.

Neely Takes Victoria Seat For Year's Term Unopposed

Reeve Joseph Casey of Saanich and Reeve P. A. Gibbs of Oak Bay were re-elected by acclamation today, together with the entire Oak Bay slate.

In Victoria, James E. Neely was elected alderman by acclamation to fill out the one-year unexpired term of Aubrey Kent. School Trustees Ken Leeming and A. W. Trevett, also went in unopposed.

Highest poll since Victoria was incorporated is expected on Dec. 13, when 19,620 persons are eligible to cast ballots in a four-way mayoralty race. Twelve are seeking five two-year aldermanic seats on council and two on one-year seat.

Oak Bay councillors elected by acclamation are J. V. Johnson, George Murdoch and F. E. Norris; and Oak Bay school trustee J. A. de Bourcier and police commissioner W. G. Ellis.

In Saanich school trustee Walter Jeune was returned by acclamation.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

MAINLY ABOUT DOGS

IF there is one human failing more than another which puzzles and disgusts me it is sadism, the lust for hurting an animate thing. It is bad enough when it makes its ugly appearance in children, expressing itself in cruel tormenting of kittens or birds, but it is infinitely worse when indulged in by adults who should know better.

The recent happening in Esquimalt, when a puppy was thrown from a speeding car and left to die a lingering death by the occupants, bears all the earmarks of the handiwork of a sadistic adult or adults, rather than the thoughtless cruelty of children.

BRUTES AND SADISTS

THAT callous and calculated act is only one of a series of similar brutalities which shock Victoria from time to time. We have heard of waterfowl, including seagulls, being found with their bills wired together, dooming them to a death from slow starvation, of cats and dogs being wantonly mistreated, of corralled deer being shot at.

True, such things happen elsewhere, more's the pity. But it doesn't make me feel any less ashamed that Victoria harbors such brutes in its midst. Let us hope that if, and when, the culprits are found they will get their just deserts—although I doubt it. For, in my opinion, the only punishment to fit that particular crime is to administer the culprits a dose of their own medicine—in the shape of corporal punishment. Incidentally, I know that some people will say I am sadistic for suggesting it.

THE OTHER EXTREME

AT the other extreme of the emotional pendulum from the sadist is the silly sentimentalist who, to my way of thinking, detracts almost as much from the dignity of animals. I refer to the sort of individual who figured in a news item which appeared in this paper a few days ago under a Denver, Colorado, dateline.

It told of a former orchestra leader who acquired a mongrel dog named "Pal" ten years ago, winning him in a legal battle from a man who had been convicted of mistreating the pup. The dog became the musician's pal in more than name, and when he died a week or so ago, his grieving owner decided to demonstrate his devotion to his dead pal.

LUSH FUNERAL

TO do that, according to the best Denver ex-orchestra standards, he spent $1,000 on the obsequies. That included a minister to perform the last rites, ten dog "buddies" to act as mourners, a mahogany casket and flowers to the tune of $400.

No doubt the morician, the minister and the florists were suitably impressed by that vulgar display. But I very much doubt if the doggy "mourners" were. In fact, they probably wondered what it was all about. And I can't help feeling that "Pal's" enjoyment of that particularly happy hunting ground to which all faithful pups go isn't increased one whit by the morbid mummery to which his mortal remains were subjected.

HELP FOR OTHERS

IN my humble opinion, the $1,000 which that funeral cost could have been expended to far better purpose as a memorial to a faithful "Pal" if it had been directed to the protection of less fortunate animals through some recognized and reliable channel. Or, better still, to the helping of unfortunate humanity.

And it would have been more commensurate with the innate dignity of a dog had "Pal" been merely memorialized by some such final tribute as this ancient epitaph to a much-loved companion:

"Thou who passest on this path,
If haply thou dost mark this monument,
Laugh not, I pray thee, though it is a dog's grave.
Tears fell for me, and the dust was heaped above me
By a master's hand."

MILK COST NO LIQUOR BAN

Oak Bay Wants No Subsidy

Many people who are complaining about the price of milk can always find enough money to buy what they want at the liquor stores.

This observation was made by Councillor George Murdoch at a meeting of Oak Bay Council Wednesday.

The subject of milk prices followed a request from a "Conference for Action Against High Prices," held in the city November 15, for the council's endorsement of a resolution for a subsidy on milk. The conference was sponsored by the Congress of Canadian Women.

The council decided not to become involved in a milk price debate as it felt that the matter was entirely under the Provincial Government's jurisdiction. The council also decided not to consider another resolution passed by the conference asking for the council's support against an increase in B.C. Electric Co. power rates.

Bus Route Wanted Along Former Loop

More than 100 Oak Bay property owners have signed two petitions favoring re-routing of the Willows bus back to the same loop it made before the summer schedule came into effect.

They ask in their petitions to Oak Bay Council that the bus run on the route from Cadboro Bay Road to Thompson Avenue, Estevan Avenue and Beach Drive, returning to Cadboro Bay Road by way of Bowker Avenue. Council is considering the matter.

DIRECTLY AFFECTS 40,000

Windsor Auto Strike Worries
Populace As Yule Approaches

By ROBERT W. REFROD

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 6 (BUP)—Windsor was a worried city today. Its 160,000 people, probably more than any other major city in Canada, depend on one industry, the automotive industry. Today, there is trouble at the Ford Company plant, and residents fear it will last for some time.

The Ford Company employs some 10,000 workers, and when their families are taken into account, that means it directly affects an estimated 40,000 people—or about one-quarter of Windsor's population.

In addition, there are numerous feeder plants that supply Ford with parts, and they employ many thousands more.

Last Monday, the Ford plant closed down as the result of a long-smouldering labor dispute. The feeder plants will also have to close unless Ford production is resumed quickly.

That will mean a black Christmas for many thousands of families in Windsor.

Typical is the story told of one Ford worker, who went Christmas shopping Monday afternoon. His wife knew that if a strike hit the plant, there would be no money coming in, and that would mean no presents for the kids.

Even as her husband was out at the stores, news came through that the men had downed tools because the company had fired 26 employees as agitators.

Her husband came home, his arms filled with parcels. But his face fell when he heard of the strike. Money was short, and he wondered whether he should return the presents. His mother came to the rescue and said she would help him out if he needed, but the kids must have a proper Christmas.

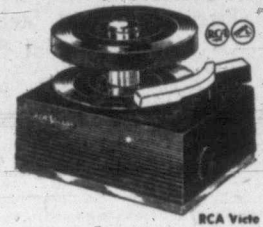

That is typical of what is happening all over the city.

The effect of the Ford-strike was instantaneous. Even hours after it started, restaurants that were usually crowded had only a handful of patrons; and stores throughout the city reported a drop in business.

Everyone, down to the grocer on the corner, feared what would happen if the strike was a long one. The workers would have no money to spend on anything but the bare essentials for living. That would mean slack business. It would be particularly felt because Christmas is only 19 days away.

Everyone feared, too, that the walkout might spread in a sympathy move to the other automotive plants in the city—Chrysler and General Motors.

In Inter-Union Quarrel

Possibility of Local 885 of the General Teamsters' Union (T.L.C.-A.F.L.) withdrawing its delegates from the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council appeared more than likely today. Indication of such action was served on the council Wednesday night by teamsters' business agent, Bob Milliken, who asked the council to take the building supply firm of Stewart & Hudson off its unfair list. His union, he explained, recently negotiated and signed an agreement with the firm, with which the employees were "entirely satisfied."

Argument against Milliken's proposal was led by Ernest Oliver, president of the Carpenters' Union, who said the teamsters had made a bad agreement in signing for a 47-hour week, and who alleged the teamsters had taken into their union certain men who should be in the carpenters' union.

Argument pro and con went on for some time before council voted on the matter. The vote was 18 to 14 in favor of leaving the firm on the unfair list. It meant the T.L.C. council would continue to support a C.C.L. picket line which has been placed on the firm on recent Saturdays.

Milliken told the council: "If this council is going to go hand in hand with the I.W.A. and C.B.R.E. (both C.C.L. unions which have disputed with Stewart & Hudson) and if it's going to leave us out on a limb, we will certainly take up the matter at our next meeting."

Oliver, the carpenters' spokesman, said the teamsters should not have signed any agreement calling for more than a 40-hour work week.

Teamster Jim Scott answered: "It would pay him (Oliver) to look into his own local to see how many carpenters are working on the side on the sixth day."

GOLD BEARING PLANTS YIELD
AS HIGH AS $400 PER ACRE

TORONTO, Dec. 6 (CP).—Geologist Hans Lundberg said Wednesday night that gold bearing plants—yielding as much as $400 an acre—soon may be grown commercially.

He told of an area in Indiana with colloidal gold in the soil. When horsetail fern was planted it absorbed as much as nine ounces of gold in a ton of plant matter.

Lundberg spoke to the faculty of applied science and engineering of the University of Toronto.

SCORE—The Grey Cup game in Toronto Nov. 24 showed that via "the R.C.C.S. route" it's not so far between Canada and Korea.

It took exactly five hours for a message to leave 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade headquarters asking Canadian Army headquarters for the final score and for the answer: "Ottawa 21, Saskatchewan 14," to come back. The message had to go from Brig. John M. Rockingham's command post back to Eighth Army headquarters, thence to Tokyo, Oakland, Calif., Washington and Ottawa. Then back again.

SOFTIES—A seven-year-old "cowhand" from Helena, Mont., was to arrive in Long Beach, Calif., today to get a $5,500 Christmas present from a bunch of soft-hearted sailors and meet his favorite movie cowboy.

Freddie-faced little Terry Wayne Ellis, who must ride the range in imagination only because of his physical handicaps, was selected by the crew of the cruiser U.S.S. Helena to receive a $5,500 trust fund donated by the bluejackets.

SERIES—In Paris President Louis Pasteur's wife of the United Nations General Assembly said tonight he will hold a series of private meetings with each of the big four powers, apparently in an effort to settle their differences on disarmament. The powers—United States, Britain, France and Russia—have agreed to the idea. The Mexican diplomat had little to say about what he hopes to accomplish.

SURGERY—In Calgary Mrs. Gwendolyn Dreher, 26-year-old Calgary policeman's wife charged with the murder of Clarence Manning Franklin, 28, will be confined to hospital for another two or three weeks.

Mrs. Dreher was ordered to hospital to recover from hysteria following the fatal shooting of Franklin in the Dreher's basement suite here last Friday. Since that time doctors discovered a condition which necessitated surgery.

ADDED—In Memphis, Tenn., Adm. William M. Fechteler, chief of naval operations, said today that 526 ships of all types have been added to the navy's active fleets since the beginning of the Korean war.

The navy had 259 major fighting ships on active duty when the war broke out. The 526 figure includes various types of landing craft, not many of which were on the active list before Korea.

As of last January, the navy had 893 ships on the active list, including 269 major combatant types, 75 mine vessels, 60 patrol types, 241 amphibious vessels and 248 auxiliaries.

GLUESOME—In Grand Rapids, Mich., workers at the Tanglefoot Fly Paper Company had to walk where flies feared to tread today. About 2,600 gallons of glue used to catch flies and other insects flowed from a defective valve at the company's plant Wednesday into the street in front of the factory.

"It will be six months before all of the glue wears away," said Nicholas H. Battjes, secretary-treasurer of the firm. "Grand Rapids is just stuck with it."

Canada Shows Record Growth

Nation's 20.7 Per Cent Increase In Past Decade New High; Population 13,893,208

OTTAWA, Dec. 6 (BUP).—Canada grew faster in the past decade than in any similar period on record and had a population of 13,893,208 in June this year.

Oak Bay Asks Close Study Of Fluorine

Oak Bay council requested today from its medical health officer, Dr. James Fiddess, a full report on the value of adding fluorine to drinking water to reduce tooth decay.

A report was requested following receipt of a letter from the Victoria and District Dental Society. Wednesday stating that it was prepared to endorse the inauguration of fluoridation of the communal water supply.

Councillors were interested in the experiments with fluorine, which have shown hardens tooth enamel, so that it resists decay. The effects on adults apparently are negligible, but in children they are striking, it has been proven.

Meanwhile, it was learned that Dr. D. P. Mowry, dean of McGill University's Faculty of Dentistry, is completely satisfied that the treatment of water supplied with fluorine does produce the results claimed.

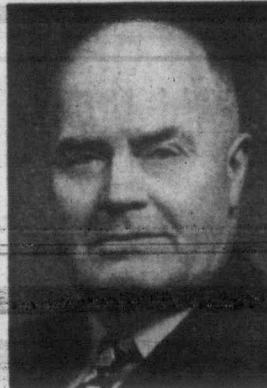

RISK—In Stockholm six hundred Swedish army guardsmen went on hunger strike Wednesday because their morning cup of chocolate was too thin. A spokesman said: "Our chocolate is thinner than tea. It is often served in dirty cups. There is a risk of infection."

MYOPIC—In Sandersfield, Mass., Edward Cutting and his brother, William, went hunting Wednesday, dressed in red caps and jackets so they wouldn't be mistaken for deer. Ten minutes after entering the woods Edward was stung by several buckshot pellets. A hunter stepped from the brush and explained: "I saw four legs and thought they belonged to a deer."

Shipyard Men Seek Defense Workers' Tag

Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (T.C.L.) will ask Ottawa to classify local employees of the Department of National Defense and employees of Victoria's two shipyards as "defense workers."

Once classified as such, the workers can apply to the National Housing Authority to build homes with a down payment of only 10 per cent, instead of 20.

Ernest Oliver, president of the Victoria Carpenters' Union, told the council the "defense" tag would serve two purposes.

He said it would be a blessing to many government and shipyard workers wanting to build homes, and it would help construction workers here, faced with long layoffs because of a lack of building activity.

Europe D.P.'s Displace Local Workers, Claim

Further protests were brought forward by many union representatives at Wednesday night's Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council meeting, to the effect that European displaced persons were taking jobs away from Canadian-born workers.

It was the third meeting in a row such charges had been made. Council voted to make an investigation of the charges, and if it found them correct, to take up the matter with authorities in Ottawa.

Earl Allen, business agent for the laborers' union, declared at the Wednesday meeting he knew of many instances where displaced persons had been taken on by firms and other employers let out.

"It's happening every day," he said.

He said, too, he knew of one European who for a time was holding down two jobs—a day job at Bamberton and a night job in Duncan.

Upward, But Incalculable

THE LATEST RISE IN THE CANADIAN cost-of-living index demonstrates once again how difficult it is for the best economists to forecast the movement of prices. The Canadian Government had expected prices to level off in October after the index rise of 0.6 points in September. Instead, they rose in October by 0.8 points. But they could not help rising so long as the upward spiral continued in the United States.

It has long been argued by the Conservative Party and the C.C.F. in Parliament that the United States had solved the problem of inflation because its prices remained steady during the summer; whereas the Canadian Government had failed because Canadian prices have never ceased to rise—though at a much reduced pace—since the first of the year. The latest American figures destroy this convenient theory. In the month ending September 15 the American index rose 1.1 points, almost twice as much as the Canadian index. In the next month, ending October 15, the American index rose 0.8 points, exactly the same rise as that recorded in Canada, for the full month of October.

Since Canada (and for that matter the entire world) inherits American prices through buying and selling largely in the American market, there is no escape for anybody so long as the inflationary spiral continues in the United States. And assuredly it will continue, unless there is a drastic change in the world economy at large, until the United States adopts fundamental fiscal remedies which it has not yet done, at least in adequate degree.

The political difficulties of the United States Government and Congress, however, need not surprise us here. Whenever the Canadian Government has adopted fundamental remedies like higher interest rates, credit curbs and high taxes it has been told in some quarters that it is threatening to ruin the nation and destroy business. The Government has stood by its policy so far, sacrificing political popularity for what it believes to be sound courses, but its success is inevitably counteracted by the higher prices flowing north across the border.

The latest cost-of-living figures in Canada and the United States are approximations only. They take no account of the bargain sales in stores throughout both nations. If the lower prices offered in such sales were considered in the index it would not have shown its recent rise and perhaps would hardly have risen at all.

But that does not alter the sovereign fact that inflation, not deflation as some businessmen and labor leaders believe, is still the basic problem in America and everywhere. It will continue to be so long as rearmament with its vast diversion of goods and manpower out of civilian production, continues at the pace now planned.

Actually, price prospects are quite incalculable because that pace may slacken, perhaps slacken too much for safety, if Russia plays its cards right. Already, in fact, the North Atlantic Treaty nations are planning a downward revision of the ambitious plans shaped at Ottawa a few weeks ago. The European nations obviously cannot carry through their proposed shares of the joint plan without large American aid. There is no assurance that the aid will be granted in sufficient volume.

Taking all these imponderables into account, no economist can possibly foresee what will happen to prices in the next year. All the official guesses of the past have been wrong and probably will be equally wrong in the future.

Everything will depend mainly on three factors: The political climate of the world, with its effect on rearmament; the willingness or unwillingness of the United States to stop the flow of monetary inflation out of its treasury through budget and credit policies; and the buying habits of the public.

The last may be the most decisive of all in the next six months anyway. After the Korean buying spree the American people reduced their demand for goods and saved their money at a rate amazing to economists. They are starting to buy again and forcing up prices which no nation on earth can escape, and at the same time wage increases already granted are now having their delayed effect at the retail level. If these pressures continue so will inflation—lacking a change in world politics—and if they ease so will prices. No one knows either the future course of Russia which will determine the climate of world politics or the buying habits of the American or any other people at home.

The Little Bond Holder

A HOLDER OF CANADIAN GOVERNMENT bonds, alarmed by their recent fall in price, wrote to The Times the other day that later on "our bonds, too, may be worth no more than the feeble, deflated currency today. Is that," he asks, "what the future holds?"

A sound question, but not to be answered as this bond holder attempts to answer it.

He says that the government did not literally promise to hold its bonds at par on the current market at all times but that some kind of moral guarantee was given.

Certainly all democratic governments give a moral guarantee to every holder of bonds and money but what is this guarantee? It is not that certain securities will always be worth so much but that their real value will be preserved by the preservation of the value of money itself.

No bond holder will lose a cent of money if he holds his bond to the date of maturity when he will be paid off at a hundred cents on the dollar. But the 1950 bond holder already has lost half the value of his bond through the declining value of money and the rise in prices.

There the moral guarantee of a stable currency has been broken and the government is trying to repair it by using among other things a higher interest rate—which means currently lower bond prices—as a weapon against inflation.

The true interest of all bond holders, the holders of life insurance, of any fixed investment and of cash, lies in preventing a further decline in the value of the dollar. If higher interest rates help to prevent it no one will benefit so much as the investor, and if it is not prevented no one will suffer so much as he.

The moral guarantee of the value of money has not been broken in Canada alone. It has been broken everywhere under every system of government in the world, including the Russian. It has been broken by economic forces, by the cost of war and rearmament, too large for any government to resist. The only question is whether the damage can be halted.

The bond holder writing to The Times asks what the future holds. Assuredly it holds little hope for the investor if the government fulfills a supposed guarantee by maintaining fixed bond prices at the cost of abandoning the interest rate, its most effective weapon against inflation.

The wise bond holder will not be concerned mainly with the current price of his bond, which in most cases he does not have to sell before maturity, but with the attempt to rescue his bond from a further decline in real value. It will be of no use to him if he can always sell his bond at par and then find that the hundred cents he receives have little value in purchasing goods.

Through Zapotocky's Bifocals

MR. ZAPOTOCKY, COMMUNIST prime minister of Czechoslovakia, wants his people to harbor no foolish ideas about their health or about equality. The predominant element in their lives, Mr. Zapotocky says, should be production.

At a recent trades union congress, he set forth the facts of Czech life under the present regime—and those facts show scant consideration for the classless society.

Mr. Zapotocky noted that the raising of wages for the lower-paid had led some people to assume that the process would go on until "complete equality" was reached. That, he said, was "nonsense."

"We have," said the prime minister of Czechoslovakia, "not ourselves on the downward slope of egalitarianism and wage-leveling—a position which has produced a frequent demand that workers be paid equally because people needed the same amount of food."

"Comrades," said Mr. Zapotocky, "it is a view dangerous to socialism. If we were to adopt the idea that we were going to pay everyone the same money because they have the same stomach we should not establish socialism. We should not be able to guarantee a better future, and our production would decline. We must fight against this dangerous slogan with all means at our command."

And what does he think of the workers' health?

"Damage to a worker's health," he said, "is not as serious as economic damage to production."

Mr. Zapotocky does not believe in the equality of man. Mr. Zapotocky most definitely does not believe in equality, and his statement creates doubt over his belief in man. Mr. Zapotocky would probably prefer robots.

Somehow, under Mr. Zapotocky's communism, Czechoslovakia seems to have fallen short of the "workers' paradise" ideal vaunted for Mother Russia and her children. Somehow a new and chilling interpretation has been given, in Czechoslovakia, of that once high-sounding, Communist slogan "From each his best, and to each according to his needs."

ment trading body then goes into the world markets (Argentina is not a signatory to the International Wheat Agreement) and sells at the highest price obtainable. The farmer is through with the deal once he has sold to the agency. The government pockets the profit resulting from the difference between the two prices.

It may be argued that the Canadian farmer is also restricted in his selling and exporting procedures. That is true. But the difference is that the Canadian wheat producer is party to a selling arrangement which his industry entered into willingly, and he receives the full selling price collected on his behalf by the government through bulk sales.

No doubt the Argentine farmer would like to have the same system, but under dictatorship he has little to say.

Chips Off The Old Brock

By DAVID BROCK

WITH LESS THAN three weeks till Christmas, a sense of despondency and almost-of-doom creeps over me when I fall into a toy shop. Many a toy seems a mixture of all that is costly, ill-made, crazy, ugly, useless, breakable, boring, and unsuitable. Many a joy combines all these qualities, and more. But cheer up, boys (and girls too). The toy shops have their traditional place, of course, but you don't have to get ALL your presents out of a toy shop, nor need they all be made of printed cardboard and enfeebled tin. There are heaps of other merchants in any town, and other departments in the big stores. And I am not referring to the booksellers, seductive though they are.

SOME THINGS that you CAN buy in a toy department are often better bought elsewhere. Magnets, for example. The magnets in the toy department are as weak as a kitten and soon get even weaker. But a hardware store will sell you a magnet that will lift a pound or more. At least, I know of one such shop, and I presume there are plenty of others, and I have such a magnet in my hand right now. I'll test it, if you like. Yes, it has just lifted 2 lbs. 14 ozs. (a hefty pipe wrench.)

Blocks. Not blocks to knock chips off, but to play with. You don't want to buy kindergarten blocks for kids between six and 10, or younger kids either. Have a carpenter make you some, and a box to keep them in. And plenty of them. At least 200. A good useful shape is 6 3/4 x 1 1/2 (inches). You can vary this, but the width should be half the length, as with real bricks, for obvious reasons. One vertical block is as high as two on their sides. With these blocks you can build towers to the ceiling, huge forts, towns, anything you fancy. And I've yet to see anyone too old for them, or too young.

STATIONERY shops are almost as much fun as hardware ones. At a stationer's (or direct from the maker) you can order a rubber stamp with the child's name and address. This seldom fails to please him. The stationer is the man to sell you paints and paper for painting on. You don't want toy paints and toy paper, do you? And get the paper HUGE, and the brushes big professional ones, and so on. But don't buy oil paints, unless you're sick of clothes and upholstery and carpets and other worldly trimmings.

Two good general rules are these: If you see anything in the toy department that might appeal if it were only better made, then go to a different department that might easily sell a better quality. Bows and arrows, for example, are very different articles when you get away from Toys and into Sporting Goods. And thus with footballs, etc. Cheap little shiny and trains (I don't mean their price but their construction) are depressing, but go to a hobby shop. If you know one, and you may find something miles better. And so on.

THE SECOND RULE is this: Flick through the yellow pages of your telephone directory for sudden inspirations. And believe me, the section headed Junk Dealers is not the least inspiring (for boys, if not for girls). You'd be amazed at what you can buy there.

You'd not think there'd be much in the way of ideas behind the heading Ship Chandlery. Ever been in a ship chandlery, and seen the rope and lanterns and Davy Jones knows what? Rope (which can also be had at any hardware store, of course) was one of my more successful gifts to an eight-year-old boy. . . . who, at 10, wants more rope, please. He used it for swings, for climbing up, for tying up things down, for anything else. Sometimes he just took it happily for a nice walk.

IT'S STAY OUT of the clothing departments, though, unless you know your little victim better than I know most kids. Certain garments will appeal to certain kids (perhaps not even a majority) as a delightful Christmas extra that could not be afforded or even dreamt of at any other season. But alas, more prosaic clothes may possibly seem a gift since they'd have been bought in January anyhow.

DESIRES

I DON'T KNOW how you find out what a child wants most. He will often tell you quite readily what he wants second-most, and give you a list of a hundred likes. But his burning desire is apt to sound silly even to him, and he'll hide it. I knew a boy who nearly died of desire, he wanted a stop-watch so much. But he never told his love, and his mother never knew till he was grown up and didn't want a stop-watch any more. And then, I suppose, she nearly cried. His brother felt the same way about track shoes. . . . spurs. He ran (and very well, too) all through high school, and then through a still higher school, in tennis shoes, because he couldn't explain. This fact also came out, when he no longer ran races. It would be hard to discover these passions. It might be even harder to predict just how long the yearning would last after it was gratified. Some marriages do endure. But what are the odds, exactly? I must ask my bookie.

Pedestrian's Rights

Calgary Herald

Jay walking is the habit of the pedestrian of crossing what used to be the King's Highway wherever he felt like it to get where he was going in the shortest time. In recent decades so many pedestrians have acquired dangerous weapons, called motor vehicles, that such crossing has become more and more hazardous. Officials and others who like to restrict people's rights have been quick to shackle the pedestrian in the interests of those using dangerous weapons. If they can fine people for crossing the street in front of these cars, then it can be expected that a fine will shortly be forthcoming for anyone who gets in the line of fire of a hunter's rifle. It will make just as much sense.

Hold Up A Bit, Sir, Your Trip's Been Cancelled

As Our Readers See It

YOUTHFUL ANTICIPATION

A visit to my octogenarian friend set me thinking of all the joyful old folk there will be in Canada this Christmas. Truly a Christmas for them to think of during their remaining years.

In joyful anticipation what was she not doing with that $40 per month! Already she could see herself embarking for the Old Country via the Panama. "You see," she said, "I never went further than the Channel Isles and Scotland when I lived in England and there is so much I would like to see."

I reminded her that she can't be out of the country longer than three months if she wishes to retain the pension.

"Oh, well, perhaps the Maquinna cruise would be better. I might miss all the little things around, and they tell me the Maquinna cruise is very lovely. And there are lovely drives around Victoria. As Mr. Asquith said, 'I must wait and see.'"

I left her with her dreams and plans marvelling how forty dollars a month can give so much joyful anticipation.

EMMA HARRISON.

HEALTHFUL BREW

I read in your columns that Dr. Clarke and the Dental Association are intent on fluoridating our water supply in order to prevent decay in the teeth of children. I am sure that we are all ready to agree that fluoridated water should be supplied for the youngsters if it is needed although fluoridated pop probably would be more popular.

This passion for adding chemicals to good water seems to be increasing and one may ask, what next? Condy's fluid to prevent athlete's foot and a little sulphur for our canines perhaps?

I should like to say a word for the tea drinkers of the district and beg Dr. Clarke and his friends to have a heart. How would you like the prospect of drinking tea made, not with clean boiling water, but with boiling chlorinated mouthwash? Shades of Dr. Johnson. I ask you.

A. P. RAYMENT.

SEES OPPORTUNITY

Since my last letter that the Daily Times were good enough to publish I have had the pleasure of meeting one of the young gentlemen who now seeks a seat on our city council. I conversed with him for some considerable time, allowing him to bring forth in an intellectual manner his vision of what our city should really be, and the desired changes needed for that improvement.

I studied this fine upstanding young man during our interview and came to the conclusion that there was within him a solid structure with strength of character, outstanding ability, and a very sincere desire to serve our citizens. I sought further information from many sources concerning this gentleman, and everybody spoke well of his character and ability. Apparently these qualifications have been well tried during his service as police commissioner to our city.

I found that he had also served his country overseas in the last war, rising to the rank of major. This, too, speaks of commanding power and a keen sense of duty. I found, too, very much to the shame of the members of Non-Partisan League that they withdrew their support to Brent Murdoch, because he would not sink his moral principles and deny his admiration for C. L. Harrison's platform.

Young men with sound judgment are needed badly in public life. Your opportunity to support one is now here on Dec. 13 at the municipal election.

MODERN BARRACKS

After perusing the article by Roy Thorsen in the Victoria Times re the "shedding of its military cloak of old" by the Canadian Army, and a description of the new "semi-hotels" being provided for today's "recruits," may I draw to his notice the ballad entitled "Captain Reece" by W. S. Gilbert, which he will find in any copy of "The Bab Ballads" if same are still in circulation.

It appears to me that "Captain Reece" et al were really quite "rough and tumble," even cruel, in comparison with what is provided today! Why not "A feather bed to every man, Warm slippers and hot water can . . . A valet, too, to every four," etc. (Mrs.) S. C. BEESON.

Duncan, B.C.

SCOTS' APPEAL

With reference to the letter from the Overseas Secretary of the Scottish National Party, published in your paper, dollars remitted to Britain will help the exchange situation, but the object could be more deserving than Scottish self-government.

Scotland already has proportional self-representation in the British Parliament, the Secretary of Scotland for Scotland is a cabinet post, and, moreover, Scotsmen have always had equal opportunity with Englishmen, Welshmen and also Irishmen in the British government civil service, army, navy and air force, and, incidentally, have taken very full advantage of these opportunities.

The truth is that the English are a fair-minded, good-natured and long-suffering race. For centuries they have tried (with the help of their Scottish, Welsh and Irish partners) to uphold law, order and tolerance in the world, and with considerable success until the German-style superman ran amok. Ultra-nationalism is a direct cause of war.

The present unhappy situation is that the English now require the fullest support, not only of their Scottish partners, but also of the Commonwealth, the United States of America and all fair-minded men, so that in full partnership peace and good will may be restored to this troubled world.

Perhaps it is not insignificant that Mr. Winston Churchill's birthday is on St. Andrew's Day.

C. I. COOKES.

Words To Scorn Are Scattered

IT IS POSSIBLE, as the comic strips, certain radio programs and occasional talking pictures have proved, to reduce the whole of any modern language to a single word. That word is "ugh." It is spoken by an Indian in the comic strip, radio program or talking picture, or by the teen-ager on the bus.

It means "yes." It means "no." It means "good." "bad," "me happy," "me unhappy," "nice fella," "tough hombre," "time to eat," "time to stop eating." In short, it means anything at all—in short.

Few people can reduce communication to so simple a form. Gary Cooper does well enough. He uses two words, "yup" and "nope." Out of them Gary Cooper has made a successful screen career and a million dollars, more or less.

With such examples before him, why does 20th century man keep elaborating with new combinations of old words to say exactly what the Indian says with "ugh?"

Take that little two-word dilly, "motivating mystique." What does it mean? Ask the scholar and he'll tell you it's a sort of "tuum est." Ask the man who uses it and he'll explain that he can't quite explain, but it's a sort of elegant way to indicate "what makes Sammy run," assuming that Sammy is a reasonably cultured person.

KROCK'S GLOSSARY

From that you can move straight into Maury Maverick's "gobbledygook" and Arthur Krock's New York Times discussion of official jargon.

Mr. Krock presents a number of new samples of official jargon sent to him by Mr. Bernard M. Baruch:

"Consultant or expert—Any ordinary guy more than fifty miles from home.

"To activate—To make carbons and add more names to the memo.

"To implement a program—Hire more people and expand the offices.

"Under consideration—Never heard of it.

"Under active consideration—We're looking in the files for it.

"Reliable source—the man you just met.

"Informed source—The man who told the man you just met.

"Unimpeachable source—The man who started the rumor originally.

"A clarification—To fill in the background with so many details that the foreground goes underground.

"We are making a survey—We need more time to think of an answer.

"Point up the issue—To expand one page to fifteen pages.

"A conference—Where conversation is substituted for the dreariness of labor and the loneliness of thought."

POLITICAL JARGON

Mr. Krock himself has prepared a little glossary extending also to the field of politics. Samples include:

Imbalance—As explained by Mr. Krock, a "government economist's description of the results of his bad guess."

Mandatory—Something that ought to be done right away and probably will never be.

Breach of security—Information which embarrasses someone in the government.

No comment—Modern way of saying, "That stumps me."

Security in depth—A policy on which two government departments agree. (Very rare.)

Indian—Overeducated aide who sits behind and prompts his chief at hearings and conferences and usually massacres his agreements with other chiefs of other "Indians."

Balanced weapons—Release by official to Columnist Y of secret documents refuting attack on him by Columnist X inspired by another official.

What do you think of it? What's that? "Ugh?"

Exactly.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN TORIN

"I SEE," said the Elevator Man, "when an Australian couple has been enjoying a holiday 'off the beaten track.' That's a favorite resort for a lot of folks who want to get away from it all. So these people went up nearly to the Arctic Circle, climbed a snow-covered mountain on the Equator and visited a pygmy tribe. All good off-the-beaten-track places, no doubt. But the expression is a little off the track itself. The Arctic Circle isn't off the beaten track for the people who live there. The pygmy tribe was right at home where it was visited. The equatorial mountain no doubt was home to a whole flock of people who'd been born and raised there. And probably the most off-the-beaten-track place those natives could think of would be the Australian city where the holidaying Sydney couple came from. Going up!"

"The fact is," said the Elevator Man, "that what are outlandish places to us are merely home to the folks who live there, just as our normal homes seem completely exotic to them. It's all in the point of view. You can always turn up opposite views on the same subject. Like the two old-timers who were taking a trip into the desert, to get off the beaten track. One of them took along a gallon of whiskey for rattlesnake bites. And the other took along two rattlesnakes. Going down!"

"Some folks," said the Elevator Man, "have discovered that you don't have to go away to the far ends of the earth to get a new view of life. When you go away you're really taking the main part of your environment with you—yourself. By changing yourself, even though you don't change your geography, you can get a new slant on life that might be much more spectacular than looking at pygmies or Patagonians. Just moving over from an old rut to a new one can make life more interesting for a while. But a king-sized job on your own nature can really get you off the beaten track. Even your friends won't know you."

Victoria Men Plan Improvements On Ottawa Defense Rescue Trucks

By GORDON FORBES
Two Victoria men have returned from an Ottawa civil defense instructors' rescue work course with some ideas of their own.

Brig. G. A. McCarter, deputy provincial civil defense co-ordinator, said today the Victorians have reported to him they have some ideas which would improve on Ottawa's teachings.

The men are Ray Byers, assistant city works superintendent, and Edward McKinty, local contractor. The city sent Byers on the course and McKinty was chosen by the Victoria Builders' Exchange.

"I told them to bring in their recommendations and we would consider them," said Brig. McCarter. "We encourage this sort of thing."

The main objective of Byers and McKinty is an improvement on Ottawa's thoughts on civil defense rescue trucks.

During the Ottawa course the men were shown a specially constructed rescue vehicle which cost about $11,000 fully equipped.

"We realized immediately that this was too much money and local officials would balk at the expenditure," explained Byers. "So, these nights Byers and McKinty are spending their spare time designing attachments which will fit any standard truck."

"We believe it is more economical and practical to design boxes, bins, racks and attachments to fit any truck. A special truck is not only more expensive, but it is lying around idle all day," McKinty said.

The attachments will have to be designed to hold heavy construction equipment, jacks, pulleys, chains, tools and buckets, to name a few.

Byers and McKinty feel confident it can be done—even if Ottawa didn't think of it, first.

Sidney Dowser's Oil 'Discovery' Too Tiny To Prove

A Sidney oil sample proved to be too small for provincial government experts to analyze. Charles Armstrong, Weiler Avenue, who believes he may have found oil under his property, submitted a glass jar of water with a thin film of oily substance on the surface. The elderly resident will submit a larger sample later. He claimed to have found oil traces through the use of diving rods.

Chairman Bans 'Unfair' Queries When Hunter States His Policies

City Profits On Water System Sale Even After Paying Its Debt, He Claims

"True story" of the Greater Victoria Water Board sale was unfolded by mayoralty candidate Dr. J. D. Hunter at an election meeting Wednesday night.

Thirty-three men and women came to hear him outline and defend his eldermanic record at an unpublicized meeting in Victoria West Community Centre.

They remained by the heat of the wood stove to hear some of their number ask for abolition of everything from poll tax to fluorination, query the worth of a city manager and seek a place to lay the arena blame.

The meeting, however, was under control at all times. Saanich's Reeve Joe Casey, chairman, outlined the conduct he expected and saw that he got it.

"I'll ask you to refrain from interrupting Dr. Hunter while he is speaking," said Casey at the outset. "There will be a question period. Please ask questions through the chair."

"If I think a question is unfair, I'll rule it out of order. I am going to ask you to accord Dr. Hunter the same courtesy you would ask for yourself."

QUESTIONS HELD UNFAIR

The audience complied. For his part the reeve put two questions on the unfair list.

Mrs. Julia de Blaquiere, 903 North Park, asked what suggestions were made by aldermen during their terms of office for improvement of Point Ellice Bridge. Percy Luck, 810 Russell, asked what benefits the city derived from the city manager.

Casey felt the first question had been fully answered and on the second, said the manager came directly under the mayor's office, not the aldermen.

Dr. Hunter hammered home his first point on the water board, referring to a claim by another candidate that the city did not get a cent in cash payment when it sold the water supply system.

While there was no cash down, the city will in 15 years from 1948, have received $3,400,000 the purchase price agreed upon, plus $840,000 in interest for a total of $4,240,000, he said.

THIS IS CASH

"These are cash payments. By the end of 1951 the board will have paid the city $560,000 on the purchase price and $283,000 in interest on the debt."

"The city will have to pay out on the old water supply system debt, $2,563,000 in principal and interest, leaving $1,677,000 which could be regarded as capital profit on the transaction."

By a special act, the monies must be used to pay off other indebtedness incurred by the city for capital purposes, Dr. Hunter said.

"That is the true story of the sale. I think that should clear up the matter."

GARBAGE A HEADACHE

Garbage, the doctor called "a headache," but said he favored disposal by incineration. As for piles of garbage on scows in the harbor or at the wharf . . . when high winds prevented the scows from going out, there was nowhere else to pile the garbage, he said.

"I don't approve a change in the garbage system," commented Thomas Allan during the question period. "In six months, the way cost of living is going there'll be nothing to put in the garbage."

Dr. Hunter touched on Point Ellice Bridge—the plans are not going to be wasted, they are going to be useful; on roads—certain road work should be done in Victoria West, but it could not all be done at once; education—should be obligation of senior government, so should health.

CAN'T PLACE BLAME

On the arena: "I know the roof leaks and there are cracks in the wall and the refrigeration is not what it should be . . . who's to blame? I don't know; I wish I did."

In conclusion Dr. Hunter said: "I am absolutely independent. There are no strings on me. I'm conducting my own campaign and paying for it."

"Do you favor abolition of the poll tax," asked G. Chapman. "It is iniquitous."

"I'm not altogether in favor of road and poll tax . . . I'll be glad to look into the whole matter," said Hunter.

"Dr. Hunter said the trouble with the arena was too many cooks. Why are they passing the buck?" asked Mrs. de Blaquiere.

"Do you know who's to blame, I don't," Dr. Hunter parried.

CAME TO FIND OUT

"No, I don't; that's what I came to find out," she replied, and sat down amid clapping as she concluded: "As old taxpayers, the longer we live the more we go into the hole all the time."

One man wanted to know why it cost $60,000 to run the Arena, including $10,000 for the manager and office. He said Arena intake was $100,000 last year, but the city got $43,000.

"The Arena Commission runs the Arena, not the city," replied Dr. Hunter.

"The Arena is the city's," the man said. "It's the city's business." The city pays the debentures.

William H. Williams, an aldermanic candidate, wanted to know if Dr. Hunter favored "chlorination and further pollution of the water." He referred to fluorination.

TOLD WHAT TO DO?

"Is the city getting its $10,000 worth out of the city manager?" asked another man. "Do you think he's not being told what to do?"

At this point Ald. Frank Muller rose to say: "I know of no alderman who has dictated to the city manager. I wouldn't like to try. He's not that type of man."

Percy Luck carried the manager question further, asking what benefits the city got. When chairman Casey ruled the question unfair, Luck replied: "I think anything's fair that is public business. We're paying for it. We're entitled to know. Has he given a report? A man should give an account of his stewardship."

Dr. Hunter said the manager had been in his post one year and six weeks and he felt it would not be long before the city gained many benefits from the system.

STANKY DEAL CLOSE

Yanks Not Tribe After Williams

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 6 (AP)—Owner Ellis Ryan of Cleveland Indians said today he wouldn't be surprised if Boston Red Sox traded Williams to New York Yankees.

"I would say the Yankees have the best chance of getting Williams," he said. "That is, if Boston really wants to trade Ted. New York has more to offer, in the way of good young dispensable players, than any other club."

Ryan denied an oft-told story that Williams had been offered to the Indians for right-hander Bob Lemon and catcher Jim Hegan.

"Ted Williams' name has never come up for discussion in any of our talks with the Red Sox," he said. "I have no way of knowing whether the Red Sox have ever attempted to trade Williams to any club."

Previously, general manager George Weiss of the Yankees hinted that his club will be interested in making a deal for the Red Sox slugger if they are sure Joe DiMaggio is not returning next season.

"We might be interested in Boston's big fellow if we knew just what our big fellow is going to do," is the way he put it. "If Joe decides to play, then I don't think there would be room for the two of them."

TRADE RUMOR

DiMaggio is scheduled to meet with Yankee officials in New York this week. If a Williams-to-the-Yankees transaction is made, the guess is that the Red Sox will ask for outfielder Hank Bauer, second-baseman Gerry Coleman, pitcher Bob Morgan and a young catcher.

The Cardinals' persistent efforts to land Eddie Stanky as manager were expected to wind up successfully. The announcement may come within the next 48 hours.

LONG HUDDLE

President Fred Saigh of the Cards and manager Leo Durocher of the Giants huddled for two hours yesterday, then lunch for another two hours together.

"I told Mr. Saigh that we still were determined to get Max Lanier (southpaw pitcher) and Chuck Diering for Stanky," Leo said. "We did not want the other fellows he offered. He said he'd think it over."

"I think the deal will be made," Leo added with a broad grin. The "other fellows" are pitcher Red Munger and catcher Del Rice. The Giants were to throw in catcher Sal Yvars and infielder Jack Lohrke in the deal.

IT'S LONELY ON BASKETBALL NIGHTS

Count 'Em And See

By DENNY BOYD
 Did you know that on an average night at Vic High gym the Victoria and District Basketball players will outnumber the spectators better than 2-1.

If you think that sounds ridiculous, just go up some night and count them. Your presence might overbalance the spectators' count and if you bring a couple of friends, you might help constitute the largest crowd of the season.

The fact remains that on an average night there are from 50 to 70 players performing before one or two dozen spectators.

To make matters worse, this smattering of customers are not necessarily basketball fans; many of them are relatives and sweethearts of the players.

It's a sad commentary but the fact must be faced that in Victoria, the basketball fan is as rare as feathers on a swordfish. This in a city that has produced four Canadian hoop champions and countless provincial titlists.

Is it the fault of the league executive? Is the quality of basketball produced so bad that people virtually fight to miss the games?

There is nothing wrong with the people who run the league. President Tommy Carson is working himself to a nervous breakdown and worrying himself to a peptic ulcer trying to figure it all out. His assistants turn out to the gym religiously to handle the gym facilities, time-keeping, score-keeping and ticket-taking chores. When the players are not on the floor, things are so quiet that these workers

Shoeless Joe's Death Recalls Series Scandal

MATTHEWS WINS ANOTHER BUT BUMPS INTO TROUBLE

CLEVELAND, Dec. 6 (AP).—Harry Matthews had another victory for his impressive record today, but the crack Seattle light-heavyweight was a weary fighter.

The No. 1 contender for the light-heavyweight crown held by Joey Maxim ran into unexpected opposition last night in winning a unanimous 10-round decision over hard-hitting Danny Nardico of Tampa, Fla.

Although he got a thorough pasting for his efforts, Nardico shook up the west coast batter on a number of occasions with his dynamite-laden fists.

Jack Hurley, Matthews' manager, was the first to admit that his fighter didn't perform like he has in the past.

"He was very sloppy and couldn't put two punches together during the entire fight," said the studious ring veteran who changed Matthews' style and made him one of the hottest names in boxing.

Hurley said his fighter "took more punches than he usually takes in a year."

R.C.M.P. Superintendent C. W. Harvison said today the police probe into the situation was "continuing" both in Victoria and Vancouver, where demands for more than $1,000,000 have been made on the Chinese colonies to "safeguard" relatives in Red-controlled China.

Superintendent Harvison said he could not give any results of the probe thus far, but did say "no one has been rounded up as yet."
Making a quiet inquiry of their own are certain Chinese here. They watch in their own way. They keep an eye open and see what is doing; whether any strangers come into Chinatown or not.
Are there Red informers on the Island who "put the finger" on influential Chinese here? Chinese say they cannot say yes or no at the present time.
Earlier, Chinese Benevolent Association officials here had been inclined to discount possibility of such informers in B.C., but recently the theory gained support after some Chinese said they received notes although they were positive no one in China knew their whereabouts.
Chinese leaders admit "at least 100 ransom notes have been received in this area," and many more have been received by Chinese in Vancouver, asking for sums in Hong Kong dollars ranging from $200 to $1,000 in Canadian currency values.
The situation became so serious here that Chinese community heads have appealed to the local colony to turn in the ransom notes to send to the Chinese ambassador at Ottawa, so that a U.N. case can be built against the Chinese Reds.

Chilliwack Woman Shares House With No. 1 'Spook'

CHILLIWACK, Dec. 6 (CP)—The lady doesn't believe in ghosts but...
For two months in the dead of night there have been jack hammer knockings on the walls of her cottage home, violent enough to shake the house and break windows.
And the spooky noises have occurred as many as 30 times in a single night. The bangings move rapidly about the outer walls of the house.
Woodpeckers, pranksters or maybe an enemy have been blamed for the fantastic noises. Armed neighbors have guarded her home but the spook still shares the cottage.
Anna Duryba, Ukrainian owner of the four-room cottage, sometimes talks to it.
"Go away you crazy fool," she shouts. And, sometimes it stops knocking.
Rev. W. J. T. Clarke, of St. Thomas Anglican Church, believes the spook is really a spook. Mr. Clark, long-time student of

Industry's Morals Clause Could Prove Big Stick

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 6 (AP)—Any discussion of morality in Hollywood brings up the movie industry's morals clause. But amazingly little is known about it.

The history of the clause goes back to the turbulent '20's, when the industry was struck by a series of scandals that rocked its foundations.
Wallace Reid, died at the age of 31, a victim of the narcotic habit. Fatty Arbuckle, lovable comic of slapstick shorts, was tried three times for manslaughter in the rape-death of a San Francisco girl. After two hung juries, he was acquitted. Director William Desmond Taylor was murdered in an unsolved mystery that involved two actresses, Mary Miles Minter and Mabel Normand.
Since the Arbuckle case, most film players have had the clause included in their contracts. It reads something like this:

COVERS PLENTY
"The artist agrees to conduct himself with due regard to public conventions and morals; and agrees that he will not do or commit any act that will tend to degrade him in society or bring him into public hatred, contempt, scorn or ridicule, or that will tend to shock, insult or offend the community or ridicule public morals or decency, or prejudice the producer or the entertainment industries."

That should cover any situation concerning immorality. But the joker is that the clause has never been invoked for immorality.

Old Age Pension Deadline Dec. 31

Dec. 31 is the deadline for old age pension applications. W. R. Bone, regional director of old age security, reminded today.
Noting that a lot of people must be delaying making application, Bone said his office wanted to avoid a rush of applications at the end of the month. This would make payments late, he explained. Many applications, he said, require a lot of correspondence which is time-consuming.

'Smugs' Hit Canada's Cigarette Business Hard

MONTREAL, Dec. 6 (BUP).—Tobacco dealers said today an upsurge of smuggled American cigarettes into Canada had cut deeply into their business and some reported they could sell Canadian brands only to American visitors.

They blamed the high cost of Canadian cigarettes resulting from a four-cent federal tax increase and price boosts by most companies.

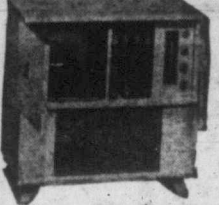

The Montreal Star reported after a survey that in some parts of eastern Canada, 70 per cent of the cigarettes smoked were smuggled from the United States. The "Smugs" retail at about 30 cents a pack of 20 compared with about 50 cents after Canadian taxes are paid. Canadian cigarettes now cost 46 cents for 20 in Quebec.

The Star quoted a hotel owner in the eastern townships near the U.S. border that his showcase display of Canadian cigarettes was "for Americans who like our brands." He said that since the federal tax was boosted last April, "I only sell about a carton a week of domestic types."

Police said they were clamping down on traffic in smuggled American cigarettes but the sometimes open sale of U.S. cigarettes in this country showed they were not being very successful.

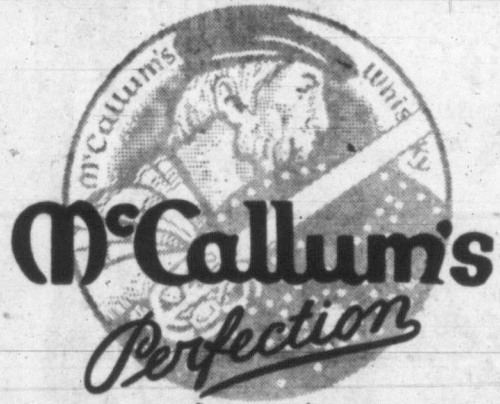

Leon Balcer, Liberal member of the federal Parliament for Three Rivers, Que., said recently in the House of Commons it had been estimated that seven out of 10 M.P.'s smoke "Smugs."

Toronto's New Mayor

Municipal elections in Toronto were noticeably lacking in burning issues this year until ex-controller Allan A. Lamport stepped into the ring to challenge Mayor McCallum, running for his fifth term. Basing his campaign on slogan, "Toronto needs a fighting mayor," Lamport rode the crest of victory to become, at 46, one of the youngest men in Toronto history to hold office of mayor. Happy smiles light faces of successful mayor-elect and his two daughters after victory was assured.

VISITORS TO TOWN

By DICK PAUL

Saskatchewan visitors here could stage a reunion at the Dominion Hotel, where a number of them are registered. Among the newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Galloway, Estevan; Mrs. Mabel Wright, Regina, and Mrs. O. Major and Mrs. H. McKay, of Weyburn.

Newly registered at the Washington Motor Court are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Blyth, of Regina, who will spend the winter here; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Spreeman, Olds, Alta.; Mrs. John Leir and two sons, John and Maurice of Penticton; E. L. Peterson, Missoula, Mont., and Mr. and Mrs. S. Herscovitch of Montreal, who hope to make their home here.

Mrs. F. L. Hill, Banff, and Miss Lorna Sutherland, Penticton, are among the new arrivals at the James Bay Hotel. Others include Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Brockington, Vancouver; Miss J. E. Ripley, Ft. Flieger, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Kent and family, Port Alberni, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Waters, Nelson.

Liberals Take 2 More Seats

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Dec. 6 (CP).—Long-delayed returns from two districts in the Newfoundland general election were counted Wednesday, showing two more Liberal victories for a total of 23.

Progressive Conservatives won four seats in the election Nov. 26. With today's returns, all districts were accounted for except Labrador, where the election was deferred until July.

The latest returns showed that Reginald Sparks, Speaker in the last House, won the northern district of St. Barbe with 2,421 votes to 247 for his Independent opponent. An incomplete tally from Burgeo-Lapointe assured George Norman, Liberal, of victory in that riding.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walls, Vancouver, are registered at the Craigflower Auto Court and Motel and hope to make Victoria their new home. Other new arrivals at the Craigflower include Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith of Halifax.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal A. Skimmer of Victoria, are staying at the Crystal Court Motel before leaving for Pasadena, Calif. A Winnipeg visitor at the Crystal is Angus MacPherson.

It was bon voyage Wednesday at the Morrow Crest Court for R.C.N. Lieut. and Mrs. George Withers and small son, Glenn, who left for England. The Withers family has been at the Morrow Crest for four months. New arrivals at Morrow Crest include Vancouver newsmen J. M. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Caskey and family of Calgary, who hope to make their home here, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stiles, of Kelowna.

Strathcona Hotel desk clerks had a little difficulty registering in a Dawson Creek visitor this week—the name is W. A. Pancyssyn... U.S. Army Cpl. Thomas J. Skube, who makes periodic visits here from his Washington camp, is back again for a day or two at the Strathcona.

Others just signed in at the Strathcona include W. J. Bowerman, of England; Mr. and Mrs. C. Apperson, Port Angeles; Mrs. Jean McConnell of Banff, back again after spending part of last summer here; A. Kohout, of Sooke; Maj. A. Cathcart Bruce, civil defense official from Harey, B.C. Checking out Wednesday at the Strathcona were Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Bilokieh, Shroder, Sask., who spent several days visiting relatives.

U. C. Nair, power official of the Indian Government who is studying the Canadian and U.S. power set-ups, will say farewell to his friends at the Cherry Bank Hotel for a few days on Saturday, when he will be off to visit the Grand Coulee Dam in Washington.

ON THE LABOR SCENE

By DAVE STOCK

A contributory pension plan is being introduced at Yarrow's shipyard.

All employees have been circularized and told that the plan is taking shape. In the early future they will be given full details and asked to say whether or not they want to enroll. The plan will be open to any employee of the firm who has reached age 21 and who has completed one year's service. Until now, only pension plan in the shipyard has been for those employed in supervisory capacities.

The new, universal plan taking shape, sounds like a good one. Employees will contribute 5 per cent of their earnings. The firm will contribute, too. Age 65 will be the retirement age for most and a monthly pension will be provided at that age reckoned out at 1 1/2 per cent of the man's average monthly earnings during the period he has contributed to the scheme, multiplied by the number of years he has contributed.

In the case of a worker who pays into the scheme for 20 years and averages, during that time, an income of $300 a month, the pension would be $90 a month. Anyone leaving the employ of the firm before retirement age, or anyone wanting to withdraw from the scheme will be able to call for the amount of their contribution and will receive 2 1/2 per cent compound interest on it.

Most hourly-paid tradesmen at H.M.C. Dockyard, Esquimalt, will be receiving fair-sized cheques before Christmas, covering the difference in pay which existed for some time between their pay and pay of workers in the same trade classifications at the two local shipyards.

K. G. Slade, superintendent of civilian personnel at the yard, says some trade groups will be receiving their cheques within the next week. All tradesmen at the yard are now receiving the same pay as their shipyard counterparts, with the exception of boilermakers and machinists. Revision of their pay scales and provision of retroactive benefits, have still to be okayed by Ottawa. The delay is attributed to the fact boilermaker and machinist unions did not arrive at a wage scale with the shipyards until all other trades had settled.

One British Columbian landed a berth on the executive committee of the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.).

Rae Eddy, of New Westminster, was elected international trustee. Tom MacKenzie, another B.C. man seeking the post of second vice-president, was defeated.

New I.W.A. president is A. F. Hartung, who moved up from first vice-president, defeating J. E. "Red" Fadling, who was seeking re-election.

Other international officers named were J. E. Dicey, first vice-president; Claude Ballard, second vice-president, and Carl Winn, secretary-treasurer. Winn was returned by acclamation.

Police Invade Private Homes

MONTREAL, Dec. 6 (CP).—City and provincial police Wednesday carried out four raids on private homes and seized books, pamphlets and reports described as "Communist literature." No arrest was made.

Police said the raids culminated 4 1/2 years of undercover work by the 19-year-old son of Detective Lieut. John Boyczum, second in command of the Montreal anti-subversive squad.

The raid, police said, struck at the core of the Young Communist organization in the city and with confidential reports seized, "we know who will be 'future leaders' of Communist elements here."

The raids, carried out under Quebec's padlock law, were at the homes of Miss Claire Benzby, 19, described as a leader of the National Federation of Labor Youth and the United Jewish People's Organization — both Communist organizations — Miss Ann Lash, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Peretz and Sidney Markman.

POLICE OFFICER GIVES SELF TICKET, NEARLY LOSES JOB

DENVER, Dec. 6 (AP).—Policeman John A. Russell gave himself a ticket and almost lost his job.

He told superiors he had gone downtown on his day off and parked. He couldn't find a ticket for the parking meter, so he tore a blank ticket from his book and left it under the windshield wiper.

He returned three and a quarter hours later.

Fellow officers had detected his manoeuvre. They wrote out a bona fide summons.

Russell was lectured by the chief and instructed to work two days without pay.

YOUR Saving IS VITAL IN Arresting Inflation

"... We stand at present in need of a great re-emphasis on the place and value of saving as a force on the side of stability. I am well aware that high taxation and high living costs make saving difficult. I am also aware that rising prices have taken a toll in the form of reduced value of past savings.

"But the hard fact is that if savings in money-form fail to keep pace with that portion of our national output going into capital construction we are, to that extent, widening the gap between spending power and consumer goods...

"What must be done is to see to it that national policies recognize fully that saving must be made worthwhile."

Only Ghosts Inhabit Phoenix Now

PHOENIX, B.C., Dec. 5 (CP).—The snow fell softly today on the freshly-dug earth covering the grave of Phoenix' last inhabitant.

William Henry Bambury was the last citizen of what was once Canada's highest city—a bustling mining town of five churches, 19 saloons, two railways, an opera house, three schools and 3,500 people.

Phoenix boomed in 1899 and busted in 1919. Two stayed. One was a Belgian caretaker named Adolf Sereu who signed himself 4 Paw. For years 4 Paw paraded the city's rotting streets with a 30-30 rifle under his arm and a homemade badge on his chest. He died in 1942. The other who stayed was Bambury.

He came to British Columbia from Portsmouth, England, to work on the Canadian Pacific. He arrived here in 1900 at the age of 33 to work as a carpenter.

He never left except for a few months in hard winters when he made his way to the hotel in the nearby mining town of Greenwood. He did leave again, in October, to go to hospital in Trail. But he returned. At his request he was buried in the cemetery on the hillside near the old coppermine's glory hole.

After 1919, when the copper ore ran out, Phoenix emptied. One by one, the houses fell down until today only one is left standing. When everybody else left, Bambury moved in and there he stayed until today.

Cars driven by C. H. McMillan, Sooke, and Herbert Claws, Sooke, plunged off

Sooke Road after hitting ice slick Wednesday. Injuries were minor in each case.

Ice Skids 4 Cars Off Highway

Injuries Are Minor
In Sudden Plunges

Unexpected ice conditions caused accidents to four cars and minor injuries to some of their 10 occupants Wednesday on lower Island highways.

The cars went into spins and plunged through guard rails on the Sooke Road and the Island Highway. A fourth car somersaulted over the shoulder on the Malahat to drop 12 feet to its wheels. Vehicle damage was estimated to total $1,500.

First two cars to hit ice slicks in shaded areas were driven by Herbert T. W. Claws, Sooke, and Cunningham H. McMillan, Sooke. Their cars catapulted off the road at Humpback and Sooke Road, landing only a few feet from each other.

The new deal, which brought only about 2,000 more persons into the plan, provided a delinquent with coverage on payment of one full year's premiums. The person had to agree to pay off arrears also.

Turnbull felt one reason why so many persons are staying out of the plan is that they don't understand the principle of hospital insurance.

"I believe it is generally a question of education. We are carrying on a continuing program of education which we hope will have good effects. This sort of program, however, does not show immediate results. It's a long-range program," said the minister.

Turnbull said the B.C.H.I.S. is always carrying on a program of checking. Wages are garnished and there have been prosecutions, he said. All these are helping to solve the problem, he said, but education is the most important aspect.

Meanwhile, in Vancouver, Sydney Smith, chairman of the Mrs. Helen R. Pearce, Shawigan Lake, and passengers suffered only minor hurts when her car went off Island Highway at 17-mile post and finished up on its side.

Third car involved in lower Island Highway crashes due to concealed ice conditions on highways, was this one driven by

Arthur C. Curnock, Crofton, at 16-mile post, Island Highway. (Times photos.)

SAYS HE MEANS THEY'RE DEGRADED

D.P. Immigrants Called 'Animals'

P. Kaiser, delegate to the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (T.L.C.) from the International Union of Boilermakers, Local 191, reiterated Wednesday night that he considered displaced persons being brought from Europe to live in Canada were "animals."

Kaiser made a statement at a council meeting two weeks ago

while talking about the government's immigration program: "They're not bringing in trade unionists; they're bringing in animals."

He repeated the charge at a meeting Wednesday night, after the meeting had voted unanimously to dissociate itself from his opinion.

Kaiser maintained, however, that he was not speaking with any idea of inciting racial discrimination. "I'm talking about economics," he declared. "Where that Nazi army went, it left a trail. These people from Europe were brought to degradation."

Kaiser maintained Europeans had fallen to such a low level in their living standards that he feared they could not appreciate the standard they found in Canada and would undermine it.

SOME SUPPORT

Kaiser drew some measure of support from boilermaker colleague John Martin, who thought it wrong for Europeans to be coming to Canada to be placed in good jobs "while the cream of Canada's youth are being sent over to their country to do the fighting."

Other delegates rebuked Kaiser for his statements.

HE DIDN'T GET HER FLOWERS BUT SHE GOT HER MONEY BACK

J. M. Chesman, Victoria real estate agent, was ordered to pay $2,500 to Mrs. June Udall, Saanich, in a judgment handed down today by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane of the Supreme Court.

The judgment followed an action taken by Mrs. Udall against the real estate man for $2,500 she allegedly advanced to him in trust for the purpose of establishing a flower distribution agency in eastern Canada.

Mrs. Udall claimed the agency was never established and the defendant failed to make a proper account of how he had spent the money.

'Educational Approach' Best Method, Declares Turnbull

An "educational approach" is the best method to attack the problem of hospital insurance delinquents, Health Minister A. D. Turnbull said today.

Turnbull gave the opinion when asked what plans are being made for attracting the thousands of delinquents and non-registrants into the scheme in view of the dismal results of a special offer which ended Nov. 30.

The new deal, which brought only about 2,000 more persons into the plan, provided a delinquent with coverage on payment of one full year's premiums. The person had to agree to pay off arrears also.

Turnbull felt one reason why so many persons are staying out of the plan is that they don't understand the principle of hospital insurance.

"I believe it is generally a question of education. We are carrying on a continuing program of education which we hope will have good effects. This sort of program, however, does not show immediate results. It's a long-range program," said the minister.

Turnbull said the B.C.H.I.S. is always carrying on a program of checking. Wages are garnished and there have been prosecutions, he said. All these are helping to solve the problem, he said, but education is the most important aspect.

Drive To Assist Spastics Better $20,000 Target

The Knights of Pythias province-wide drive to raise $20,000 for the B.C. Spastic Paralysis Society has gone over the top. Past Grand Chancellor H. R. Brown said here today that donations from B.C. lodges were "above expectations" following the campaign wind-up Wednesday night at Vancouver.

The money will be turned over to Harry Seed, president of the B.C. Spastic Paralysis Society.

The drive, expected to be an annual one, was undertaken by about 43 lodges throughout the province. Art Strong, of Capital City Lodge, was campaign chairman for the Victoria area.

Jean Jones has been named to represent the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council on the Greater Victoria Community Chest Campaign steering committee. She is a member of the Office Employees' Union.

Water Rights Controller Won't Reveal
Reasons For Granting Dam Application

A full-scale row is brewing over water right Comptroller E. H. Tredcroft's refusal to release his reasons for approving the B.C. Power Commission's application to dam Buttle Lake.

Tredcroft refused to allow the press to see his reasons when his decision was announced, and Norris told the Times the comptroller has given him the same treatment.

Tredcroft also refused to supply Norris with a copy of the Water Rights Branch engineers' report. Norris said Tredcroft's decision was made after considering this report so it should be released to the conservationists. "I am considering what action to take," said Norris.

Meanwhile, notices of four appeals have been filed against the comptroller's decision. Appeals came from the attorney-general's department, the B.C. Natural Resources Conservation League and Strathcona Park Association (Norris' clients), the B.C. Fish and Game Council and the Auto Court and Resort Association of B.C.

Because of the provisions in the Water Act, the fish and game

The fish and game council's counsel will be Harvey J. Sedgewick, Vancouver, and the auto court group's case will be conducted by the Vancouver law firm of McQuarrie and Hobkirk.

In addition to appealing for the natural resources league, Norris also will appeal for Mrs. Virginia Moore, who holds mineral claims on the shores of Buttle Lake. She is the daughter of California oil man Will J. Reid, well-known conservationist.

Higher Fares Approved For Sight-Seeing Firms

The Public Utilities Commission has approved fare increases ranging from 25 cents to $1 for Victoria sightseeing transportation companies. D. K. Penfold, acting chairman, said today.

It is the first increase the firms have had for nearly three years.

Here are samples of the new fare structure:

City sightseeing route from $1 to $1.25; longer route, taking in parts of municipalities, from $1.50 to $1.75; still longer route, taking in Mount Douglas, $1.75 to $2; Butchart's Gardens, from $1.75 to $2.25; Malahat Drive, $2.50 to $3; and "land-and-water" tour, $3.50 to $4.50.

A spokesman for one sightseeing company said increased costs of operation forced operators to seek the increase.

Three-Way Contest In North Cowichan

DUNCAN—A three-way contest for the reevehip of North Cowichan municipality was promised today with the filing of nominations by Reeve A. E. Beasley, George Evans and Councilor George W. Whittaker.

According to municipal clerk Adolphe Vandecasteyne, Whittaker has set a precedent by refusing to resign his council seat to run for reeve.

If elected, a by-election will be necessary to fill his present place on the council. Council candidates for two-year terms will be Maj.-Gen. C. A. P. Murlison, Henry J. Murphy, John G. Pinson, Wallace W. Seymour and William Spencer.

Although a vacancy exists for North Cowichan on both District 65 and 67 School Boards, there have been no nominations.

G. A. Butler Funeral Scheduled Friday

Funeral services for George Albert Butler, 69, 2816 Graham Street, a veteran employee of the B.C. Telephone Co., will be held in McCall Brothers' Funeral Chapel Friday afternoon at 2:30. He died Tuesday night at Royal Jubilee Hospital. Mr. Butler, who served for 35 years with the telephone company, is survived by his widow, three sons, Rennie and Herbert, of Victoria, and Wayne of Vancouver; two grandchildren; one brother, Thomas, of Seattle. Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Rockland Man Spurns Fine Selects Jail

"I'll take the three days in jail!" That was the declaration today of Robert Jackson, 1629 Rockland, in city police court after he had been sentenced on a charge of allowing animals on his property, contrary to the Public Health by-law.

Jackson pleaded guilty to keeping two horses, two pigs, a goat and two calves on his property, but alleged he was being "discriminated" against.

Magistrate H. C. Hall was in the process of asking Jackson if he would remove the animals in a week's time when accused said, "But I'm going to California and I can't wait."

"In that case you will be fined $15 or three days," said the magistrate.

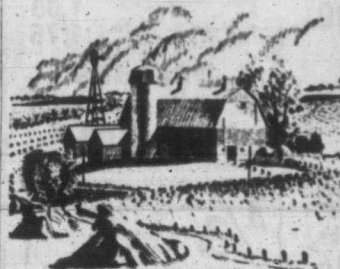

"I won't pay. I'll take the three days," Jackson answered.

Between Ourselves

By ELIZABETH FORBES

Mrs. Ernie Fox, one of Victoria's younger married business women, has a flair for wearing smartly styled lapel flowers or boutonnieres with all her daytime dresses and suits.

When you know that Mrs. Fox was formerly Miss Babs Pollock—Babs to all her friends—you'll say right away, "Well, why shouldn't she wear flowers. She lives and works among them."

And, I would have answered, "Why not?" That is until recently, when I sat beside Babs Fox in a homeward-bound bus.

She was wearing a deep red carnation boutonniere with her smart Black Watch plaid ensemble.

"What a gorgeous flower!" I said, "It goes perfectly with that outfit."

"I'm glad you like it," Babs said.

Then, she looked at me very seriously and whispered, "You know, Miss Forbes, it's not real."

Mrs. C. A. Bullock, sister of the bride, was attendant, and Ernest Carson, best man.

The bride wore a crepe ensemble in maple shade accented with dark brown velvet accessories, a fur neckpiece and a corsage of green orchids.

A family reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bullock, Vancouver. The couple will honeymoon in the Okanagan.

I was remembering the days I had rushed into the flower shop where Babs spends her days and asked her to make up some special corsage for a dress or suit I was wearing. And the way she fashioned it. Quickly and expertly. Her long fingers touching each flower as if she loved them.

"I do love flowers," she assured me as we sat together in the bus, "but when you are working among them all day, rushing from order to order, you find that if you wear them, they will before the day is over."

"I hate wilted flowers just as much as I love fresh ones," she continued, "so that is why I wear artificial ones. No matter how busy I am, they never wilt or look tired and droopy."

Going Formal—She Wears Real Flowers

"What do you do if you are going out on an evening?" I asked her, "do you wear artificial corsages with your evening dresses, too?"

"Indeed I don't," Babs said with a quiet smile, "I wear fresh flowers. And don't make them up myself, either."

"My husband goes along to our favorite florist and has one made up for me. It comes home in a box, just like any other corsage and I take it out and pin it on. I really enjoy those corsages!"

Babs tells you her favorite flowers are simple white blossoms such as bouvardia and stephanotis, and, on the exotic side, green orchids.

And she has had plenty of time to make her choice, for she has grown up in the flower business and for the past 14 years has capably managed her family's florist shop.

At a very early age, she could talk intelligently of growing and caring for flowers. She could check catalogues, clean bulbs and cut and pack blooms.

Later, she spent school holidays and every Saturday in the shop, where, with her keen imagination and flare for "something that is different," she quickly gravitated to designing.

She loves to make up corsages and bouquets in original ways. But, she tells you, she doesn't always have the chance for "usually people come into the store with set ideas of just what they want."

Once in awhile though, a bride-elect will ask her to design all the wedding flowers.

"Then I can work in ideas I've had tucked away in my mind," Babs says with a satisfied sigh.

"Of course some men are quite at a loss when it comes to ordering flowers for their wives or sweethearts," she concluded, as I stood to get out of the bus, "and it's up to me to design something suitable. You can see I do have fun!"

Married In Vancouver

The marriage of Jean L. Marshall, formerly of Victoria, and H. Percy Buckle, Vancouver, was quietly solemnized recently in the Chapel of Canadian Memorial Church, Vancouver, with Rev. James G. Gorwill officiating.

Mrs. C. A. Bullock, sister of the bride, was attendant, and Ernest Carson, best man.

The bride wore a crepe ensemble in maple shade accented with dark brown velvet accessories, a fur neckpiece and a corsage of green orchids.

A family reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bullock, Vancouver. The couple will honeymoon in the Okanagan.

Successful Cadboro Bay Bazaar-Tea

St. George's Hall, Cadboro Bay, was centre of interest in that community yesterday when the Women's Guild to St. George's Church staged its annual bazaar. The successful affair realized $800.

The affair was opened by Mrs. Jefferson, wife of the Primate at Ottawa, by remote control, Miss M. Turner, president, reading the letter from Mrs. Jefferson. The Rev. William Hills also spoke briefly.

A brisk business was done at the stalls which included attractive Christmas gifts, Yule logs, home cooking and a hand-worked framed picture.

Those in charge were Mrs. D. L. McKeand, Mrs. W. W. McVie, Mrs. H. Geddes, Mrs. H. A. Marlow and Mrs. W. Fleck, superfluities; Mrs. A. Chase, Mrs. C. Worsley, Mrs. Beil, Mrs. W. A. Walker, sewing; Miss Una McAnnally, Mrs. B. E. Cragg and Mrs. J. Howlett, toys; Mrs. Hamilton Stubbs, Mrs. Reginald Hincks, Mrs. T. H. Burns, Mrs. A. Edmonds and Mrs. Lee Kelly, home cooking; Mrs. I. Royle, Mrs. Grant Stewart and Mrs. K. Hunter, aprons; Mrs. R. T. Peterson and Mrs. M. Horsfield, Yule logs; Mrs. C. Berry, Mrs. Owen Jones and Mrs. G. Grover, candy; Mrs. C. E. Atter, picture.

Mrs. Ernest Harwood looked after the tea arrangements and Mrs. Harold Smith was at the door.

Members of the A.Y.P.A. operated a fish pond.

Hold Precision Drill Display

At Pythian Sisters District No. 5 convention, Sunshine Girls' Drill Team put on a display of precision drilling. Nan Benson and Lucy Kelsner congratulated royal adviser, Miss Margaret Erb and Mrs. O. Curtis, pianist, on the training they have given the girls. Miss Benson also introduced Doris Loveless, new majorette.

Officers were installed at a recent meeting of Margaret Rose Council No. 1, Pythian Sunshine Girls. Shirley Cruickshank was named past royal princess; Doreen Anderson, royal princess; Devona Simpson, charity; Darlene Coey, prelate; Jean Robertson, friendship; June Parkins, guide; Eileen Anderson, mystic one; Joanne Brown, royal warden; Avis Merant, sentinel; Marion Sutherland, recorder; Gloria McKay, exchequer; Pam Douglas, musician; Margaret Erb, adviser; Mesdames O. Curtis, B. Marshall, Miss V. Mesher, W. McDowell and W. Marshall, councillors.

Parcel Sent—At recent meeting of Colwood Women's Institute, a parcel was sent to the adopted institute in England. Mrs. R. B. Murray, recently returned from a stay in the Yukon, gave a talk on the north country, and roll call was answered with donations of gifts for children of Nanaimo Indian hospital. A group of members meet each Thursday afternoon at Colwood Hall for handicrafts, and a well baby clinic is held every second Friday.

Mrs. R. Myles assisted by Mrs. W. Carpenter, took charge of the needlework stall which featured stuffed toys made by Mrs. E. Hagen.

Tea convener was Mrs. M. Cowan and servers were Mesdames A. Rey, A. W. Skinner, E. Hagen and K. C. McConnell.

Another attraction at the affair was a Christmas table centerpiece competition.

Guides To Sponsor Doll Exhibit

Over 200 dolls will be on display at the Girl Guides, Victoria Division, "Exhibit of Dolls," Saturday from 2.30 to 9.30 in Victoria Art Centre, Moss Street. Included in the display will be dolls of varied nationalities and several over a century old. There will also be a collection of 30 dolls dressed by guides in the uniforms of the association in different countries. Most of the dolls to be shown have been dressed by hand and in some cases the whole doll is handmade. Mrs. Keith MacDougall, left, and Mrs. C. Shiers, arrange a display and little Jose MacDougall assists them.

Colored balloons and red, white and blue streamers turned Lake Hill Community Hall into a festive setting yesterday afternoon for Lake Hill Women's Institute Christmas bazaar. More than $125 was realized.

Mrs. A. D. Turnbull, wife of the Minister of Health and Welfare, opened the affair and was presented with a corsage of mauve beech chrysanthemums. President Mrs. W. S. Webster welcomed the many guests.

An additional touch of gaiety was provided by recorded seasonal music during the tea hour. Holly arranged in a crystal bowl centred the head table where Mrs. Turnbull, Mrs. Webster, Dr. Marian Sherman and Mrs. Howland were seated. Mrs. W. McGregor, president-elect and general convener, presided. Other tea tables were covered with yellow cloths and decorated with sprigs of holly.

Gay Christmas Decorations Deck St. John's New Hall

Ladies' Guild to St. John's Church held their first project in the new parish hall, Balmoral Road, yesterday afternoon, in the form of a Christmas tea and bazaar which realized over $550. Guests were welcomed by Mrs. George Biddle and Mrs. H. W. B. Staven, president.

The hall was ablaze with Christmas cheer, with bright decorations on a large Christmas tree and several smaller ones on the stage. Silvered limbs trimmed with colorful balls added a festive note.

Mrs. F. Pollard and Mrs. E. Farmer were in charge of decorations.

Joint conveners of the team were Mesdames A. Chubb, E. Taylor and B. Piercy; Mesdames P. Nowell Johnson, receipt of cash; Mrs. J. Trousdale, books; Mesdames S. E. Wilson, E. Stewart and C. Tice, aprons.

Others working on stalls were Mesdames R. H. Snape, A. Walton, F. J. Boothe and Miss Heather Duke, fancy work; W. H. Wells, guessing contest; Mesdames G. A. Pooley, R. H. Harper, R. E. Richards, O. C. Smith and Miss Edith Hensley, white elephant; Mesdames A. Bell, G. James, G. Smith and F. Fuller, home cooking; and Mrs. W. H. Wells, treasure hunt.

Mrs. F. C. Cornish and Mrs. M. Youdall presided at the head table which was centred with a feathered silver centerpiece and red candles in silver holders.

Individual tea tables were attractively covered with white cloths and centred with silver and red sprays in silver-papered containers.

P.T.A. Notes

James Douglas—Afternoon discussion group of Sir James Douglas P.T.A. met recently. Miss V. Calvert, city health department, showed a film on child behaviour. A discussion followed, led by Miss Calvert and A. D. Jones, principal.

During the signing of the register Mrs. R. Bryant sang "I'll Walk Beside You." A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents.

Leaving for a honeymoon in Edmonton, Alta., the bride wore a three-piece navy suit with red accessories. The newlyweds are living in Springvale, Alta.

Mrs. T. Peden went from this city to attend the wedding.

BEDTIME STORY

by Thornton W. Burgess

One of the astonishing things in this funny old world of ours is how often choice bits of wisdom fall from irresponsible tongues. People say bright things without knowing they are saying them.

Many a true word is spoken through false teeth. Perhaps that doesn't make sense to some of you boys and girls, but it will some day. You see Peter Rabbit long ago found out that most things are not exactly as they seem to be. He learned long ago that two little paths may look exactly alike, and seem to lead in exactly the same direction, but in the end one may lead into all kinds of trouble, while the other leads out of trouble.

Plan To Clear City Property Of Woodward's

Buildings at the corner of Pandora and Quadra on property owned by Woodward's department store interests will be torn down, Courtney Haddock, manager of the Victoria store said today.

Gladwell Motors Ltd. are going to rent the property," he added.

Former tenants have vacated a store and machine shop on the premises, he said. It is expected Gladwell's will use the property for extension of their used car lot.

In August the city sold two pieces of Pandora property to Woodward's interest for the sum of $150,000.

City Council was told the intention was to develop the properties for commercial purpose as soon as conditions would warrant.

It was understood that the main parcel which sold for $105,000, might be used for store erection and the second parcel bounded by Quadra, Mason and Amelia Streets might be used for customer parking.

Main parcel of property is bounded by Pandora, Blanshard and Cormorant. Property in between at the northeast corner of Blanshard and Pandora Avenue, was sold to the B.C. Electric in April for eventual erection of a $500,000 office building. Property sold for $35,000.

Peter Rabbit and Danny Meadowmouse had been talking over Danny's cousin, Nimbleheels the Jumping Mouse, who is not only the master jumper of all the people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows, but is also the master sleeper. He sometimes sleeps for almost half the year.

Peter had asked Danny Meadowmouse where Nimbleheels was sleeping this fall.

"You tell me," squeaked Danny, and ran off about his own business. He didn't know where Nimbleheels was sleeping, and he didn't want to know. He just wasn't interested.

It was different with Peter. Peter was curious, of course. Peter without curiosity wouldn't be Peter at all. He had no real reason for wanting to know where Nimbleheels was sleeping. He just wanted to know. That is always enough for anybody full of curiosity. So Peter began looking around and asking questions until some of his neighbors declared he was making a nuisance of himself.

"Listen, Peter Rabbit, where Nimbleheels may be sleeping is no business of mine, and I don't care where he is," declared Happy Jack Squirrel. Happy Jack was still busy searching for acorns to add to his winter store.

"It's none of your business, none of my business, and no business of anyone's where Nimbleheels is sleeping or even if he sleeps at all. Why don't you mind your own business and be satisfied with that!" barked Chatterer the Red Squirrel.

"I just want to know," replied Peter lamely.

Peter would have been a surprised rabbit had he found out that the sleepy little sleeper was curled up in a tight little ball sound asleep just a few feet from where Peter was sitting at the moment.

Island-Born Tot Drowned

GREENWOOD, N.S., Dec. 6 (CP).—A two-year-old boy who wanted to test a pair of new rubber boots was drowned Wednesday in a small brook which flows through the Greenwood R.C.A.F. base.

The victim was Terrence W. Waller, son of L.A.C. Gordon Waller and Mrs. Waller, who was born at Cobble Hill, Vancouver Island, his father's home.

The child had been playing with Ricky Burns, another two-year-old. When Terrence failed to come home for dinner, Mrs. Waller went to Ricky's house. She asked where her son was, and Ricky, unable to talk fluently, kept repeating "Water... water..."

The body was found in three feet of water.

Truck Driving Champs Named

TORONTO, Dec. 26 (CP).—Three Canadian truck driving champions were named Wednesday at the fifth National Truck Road.

Frank Bell, 37, a Toronto brewery truck driver, piled up 370 points out of a possible 400—the highest in any class—to become national tractor-trailer champion.

Jack K. Martin, 35, of Edmonton, who claims to have driven on every road and highway in Alberta, is the new straight truck champion with 353½ points. Martin, the Alberta champion, is a soft-drinks truck driver.

The R.C.A.F. team, with L.A.C. T. Zimmer, of Calgary, in first place, took all the main prizes in the armed services competition.

Morgan-Tucker Gain Paddle Lead

Scoring an 18-14 victory over B.C. Airlines Tuesday, Morgan and Tucker moved into first place in the Junior Table Tennis League. Jubilee Cabs were ousted from the lead when Dowell's Carriage downed them 22-10.

Scores follow:
Morgan & Tucker—R. Leason 7, J. Wood 4, B. McCoy 1, P. R. Greenwood 3, J. Carey 2, J. Lowery 2, Jubilee Cab 3, M. Miller 3, R. Purvis 3, J. Munro 1, J. Potter 2, Dowell's Carriage 4, Lambick 3, K. Lum 4, J. Gayton 3, D. Williams 5.

REDBOURN, Eng. (CP).—The bells in the 1,000-year-old tower of the church in this Hertfordshire village are no longer being rung. Experts said the vibration was dangerous to the structure.

Fire Department Cleared Of Blame

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6 (CP).—The Vancouver fire department was cleared Wednesday of any blame in the case of a badly burned man who remained in a hotel room unaided for 16 hours.

When interviewed in hospital, 57-year-old Eugene Lafliche agreed that firemen had tried to assist him both before and after they had extinguished a mattress fire in his room.

Fire Chief Alan Murray said he questioned Lafliche, whose story corroborated that of the four men who answered the fire call Tuesday.

When they first arrived at the scene, the firemen—all first aid experts—found Lafliche sitting on a staircase. No injury was evident, Chief Murray said, but his men wanted to examine him. Lafliche said he was alright.

MIAMI TOURNAMENT OPENS

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 6 (AP).—Sammy Snead's record 267 first last year was in danger of falling today as a classy international field of 168 professionals and amateurs teed off in the first round of the $10,000 Miami Open golf tournament.

MONARCHS TO WEAR HELMETS; SIGN HYPNOTIST

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6 (CP).—Manager Bill Clancy of Kersdale Monarchs said Wednesday his team will wear football helmets for their next game here Friday against Nanaimo Clippers.

"We're not taking any more abuse from Nanaimo," he told a publicity meeting.

Clancy said he would wear a mask and that coach Scotty Milne would sit in the press box. He would be hooked up to the bench by telephone.

Three fights broke out in the two teams' last meeting at Nanaimo and Nanaimo defenceman Jack Kirk took a swing at Milne.

Clancy added that professional hypnotist Ray Munro, who worked on Vancouver Canucks a few weeks ago, would try his treatment on Monarchs.

New Arrest In Cage Scandal

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP).—Donato Lamore, Altoona, Pa., shoe manufacturer and former race-horse owner, was booked early today on a charge of bribery in the collegiate basketball scandals. The scandals already have involved 31 former players from seven schools and at least seven other persons as fixers.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan described him as the "money man" behind the bribing of Harvard "Criminals" Schall, former New York University court star. Schall is serving six months for taking $2,000 to hold down N.Y.U.'s score in a Madison Square Garden game last January 1.

The shoe manufacturer was described by authorities as a wealthy former bookie and horse owner lured from New York tracks for gambling.

Coast Fishing Catch Drops Off

OTTAWA, Dec. 6 (CP).—Landings of sea-fish, excluding Newfoundland, rose five per cent during October, while the landed value declined 23 per cent below the corresponding month a year ago, the Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday.

Month's catch totaled 79,356,000 pounds with a value of $5,007,000 compared with 75,906,000 at $6,508,000 in October last year. In the 10 months, 1,014,583,000 pounds were caught as against 1,067,020,000 in 1950, and the value was $63,550,000 against $58,402,000.

Both the catch and landed value dropped during the month on the Pacific Coast. The catch fell to 26,874,000 pounds from 36,660,000, while the landed value declined to $3,181,000 from $4,685,000. In the 10-month period, 386,290,000 pounds were caught, down from $95,423,000 a year ago, but the catch value was higher at $35,691,000 from $30,599,000.

Kennedy Tied With Richard

Toronto's Ted Kennedy picked up an assist Wednesday night to move into a second-place tie with Maurice "Rocket" Richard, of Montreal, in the National Hockey League's individual scoring race.

Sid Smith, another Maple Leaf, scored two goals to move into fourth place.

Kennedy remains in first place with 24 points—six goals and a pace-setting 18 assists.

United Church Youth Team To Visit City

Two members of the United Church of Canada's National Youth Caravan team will visit Vancouver Island for a week starting Friday.

Sponsored by the church's board of Christian education, team members Miss Evelyn Lapp, National Young People's Union recreation and culture convener, and Rev. A. Lloyd Shorten, the board's director of youth work, will meet members of the Vancouver Island Presbytery Y.P.U. during a supper meeting at Victoria West United Church Friday.

A youth witness meeting, open to the public, will follow at 7.30. Rev. Douglas B. Carr, chairman of the board of Christian education committee for the Victoria Presbytery, is in charge of the arrangements.

DOG CATCHER WANTS BADGE, NEW PANTS AND NEW BY-LAW

BRANTFORD, Ont., Dec. 6 (CP).—Dog catcher Charlie Robinson Wednesday night asked city council for a badge, a new pair of pants and a new dog by-law.

He said he had taken a lot of abuse because he did not have a badge to prove his authority. The new pants were necessary because dog catching is harder on pants than is an ordinary occupation.

Mr. Robinson wanted a new by-law because the present one did not give him any backing. The present by-law is expected to be revised next year.

Vancouver Trade Unionist Dies After Crash

PENTICTON, B.C., Dec. 6 (CP).—W. D. (Bill) Wilson, one of three Vancouver trade unionists injured Wednesday night while en route here for a labor conference, died late today in hospital.

Wilson, who received a crushed chest and internal injuries, was organizer for the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (T.L.C.).

Also injured when the car in which they were riding skidded from a highway near Keremeos, B.C., and plunged over a cliff were Jim Fitzpatrick and Ernie Cook. Fitzpatrick is president of the Vancouver Ironworkers' local, while Cook is business agent for the North Vancouver Ironworkers' Union.

The three were headed for the provincial Trades and Labor Council Congress conference, which opened here today.

Casey, Gibbs In Acclamation

Entire Oak Bay Slate Also Re-Elected
Without Opposition; Candidates Listed

Reeve Joseph Casey of Saanich and Reeve P. A. Gibbs of Oak Bay were re-elected by acclamation today, together with the entire Oak Bay slate.

In Victoria, James E. Neely was elected alderman by acclamation to fill out the one-year unexpired term of Aubrey Kent. School Trustees Ken Leeming and A. W. Trevett, also went in unopposed.

Highest poll since Victoria was incorporated is expected on Dec. 13, when 19,620 persons are eligible to cast ballots in a four-way mayoralty race. Twelve are seeking five two-year aldermanic seats on council and two on one-year seat.

Oak Bay councillors elected by acclamation are J. V. Johnson, George Murdoch and F. E. Norris; and Oak Bay school trustee J. A. de Bourcier and police commissioner W. G. Ellis.

In Saanich school trustee Walter Leune was returned by acclamation. Nominations closed in the municipalities at noon and in the city at 2. Here is the list of candidates:

Colville Resigns

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (CP)—Neil Colville resigned today as coach of New York Rangers, a last-place team in the National Hockey League.

Colville announced his resignation at a luncheon for New York sports writers. He said the reasons are the poor showing the Rangers have made so far this season, plus reasons of his own health.

Manager Frank Boucher said that Bill Cook, former right-winger of the famous Cook-Boucher-Cook line will take over the coaching duties.

Cannot Fill Arms Quota—Churchill

LONDON, Dec. 6 (AP).—Prime Minister Winston Churchill disclosed today his government has given up hope of fulfilling Britain's three-year, $4,700,000,000 arms program on schedule.

At the same time, he told the House of Commons, he thinks there is less danger of a third world war now than at any time since the Berlin airlift crisis in 1948.

Churchill declined to say how much Britain would fall short of meeting its rearmament targets, but said it would be unable to spend on time even the $1,250,000,000 budgeted for the armed services during the current year.

In a speech that opened a debate on the defense policies of the new Conservative government, Churchill credited the United States, Britain and other nations of the free western world with creating "deterrents against aggression" that have lessened the danger of world conflict.

"MORE UNLIKELY"

He said it was his government's feeling that, as the deterrents have increased, "the danger (of war) has become more unlikely."

Churchill declared it is the "desire and intention" of the Conservative government to proceed as quickly as possible with the rearmament effort begun by the previous Labor regime.

Churchill, who is also minister of defense, said British military men are worried over "the slow progress made in developing the Royal Air Force, especially in the supply of the latest machines."

He added: "We must not forget that the Soviet air force is formidable, not only in numbers but in quality."

Bennett Joins B.C. Socreds

Fiery Okanagan 'Rebel' Joins Forces
Of New Provincial Political Group

W. A. C. "Cece" Bennett of Kelowna, the fiery rebel from Coalition, has abandoned his plans to form a new Independent political party in B.C. Instead he will throw his weight behind the Social Credit movement and fight for victory of a Social Credit government in B.C. at the next election.

Bennett made his intentions known in a telephone call to the Times today from Kelowna.

For the present, he said, he is joining Social Credit as a private individual, but his announcement immediately created speculation that he will seek to become the political leader of the group in B.C.

Social Credit sources here say a party convention probably will be called next summer to decide on a leader. Undoubtedly Bennett's name will come forward.

At present the party organization is headed by Lyle Wicks of Vancouver, as provincial president of the B.C. Social Credit League. However, as president, he is not the political leader of the movement.

Bennett's announcement was made as a statement to the Kel-

Appeals May Win Back Drivers' Parking Fines

About 100 motorists of this area who were prosecuted in city police court for parking meter violations during a period in November have a way open to get their money back.

This was revealed today by mayoralty candidate C. L. Harrison, former city prosecutor.

The summonses were those dated between Nov. 9 and 21, which were laid under the old street traffic and regulations by laws before the amended by-law was officially brought into operation by police, Harrison said.

Harrison's statement came following consultations with City Solicitor Arthur Patton and new city prosecutor James J. Proudfoot.

It is alleged the new by-law, which was drafted to go into effect Nov. 9, was not received by the city prosecutor until Nov. 22.

Proudfoot, however, points out that parking tickets, not involving summonses and therefore not identifying any by-law "are very properly considered as paid under the new by-law."

BULLETINS

Woman Burned

Mrs. Annie Rogers, 86, of 954 Burnside West, was taken to Jubilee Hospital today suffering from severe burns. Saanich police said she was cooking over an electric stove when her apron caught fire. Her face, hands and arms were burned.

A-Bombs At Sea?

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 6 (AP).—Admiral William Fichteler said today that atomic bombs now are small enough and light enough for carriers to launch a multi-bomb attack from any place on the world's oceans at targets up to 600 miles away.

At the same time, the chief of United States naval operations suggested conversion of ships, currently not in use, to various types of guided missile-launching ships.

Fails To Appear

Fred G. Smith, 72, the Saanich "dog man," failed to appear in Saanich court today on a charge of harboring a vicious dog. Magistrate H. C. Hall ordered a warrant issued on proof of service.

Baseball Ruling

COLUMBUS, Dec. 6 (AP).—The minor leagues today approved unanimously an amendment setting up an open classification which will permit the Pacific Coast League to jump triple AAA to just under the major leagues. The proposal still must be approved by the major leagues to become effective.

DIDN'T DRINK WHISKY, FINED

WHITBY, Ont., Dec. 6 (CP).—The way it worked out, Lyle Jones was fined $110 because he didn't drink 15 bottles of whisky.

He told the court he bought the whisky 25 years ago for his wedding. At that time, under the old Ontario Temperance Act, it was impossible to buy liquor legally in the province.

The act was repealed years ago, but the Jones whisky still illegal because he hadn't bought it on a liquor permit—gathered dust until provincial police seized it at his motel.

Otherwise trade was dull. Latest sales: York 56, Vanalla 71, Calmont 156, Vulcan 100, Spooner 32, Base Metals 56, Silk 60, Highland Belle 88, and Indian Mines 24.

HIS CHEST'S EXPANDING

Yoga Gets Practical Testimonial From Swami's Disciple-Reporter

Times reporter Humphrey Davy two weeks ago started a course in Yoga with Swami Shivanand and wrote a series of articles about it. As a result of the interest shown in this series Reporter Davy, who has about completed his preliminary course, has been asked to write a further three articles telling what it has done for him.

The first follows:

By HUMPHREY DAVY

I'm still alive, well and healthy. No broken bones no bursted blood vessels.

This is my reply to enquiries as to my progress in the Eastern practise of Yoga which began two weeks ago under my mysterious Hindu teacher, Swami Shivanand. It began as an experiment, an investigation or adventure into the unknown. Now it is beginning to show outward results.

My wife, whose critical eye I have come to respect, tells me my chest has expanded at least an inch in the past week.

This, I must confess, is a source of secret satisfaction to me because when I saw my physician a month ago he told me my chest was touching my backbone. I gathered from that he meant if I was minus a head he would have difficulty telling my back from my front. They both looked alike.

Retreat On Wage Stand Offer For Settlement

First real break in the 44-day-old British Columbia brewery strike came today.

It was revealed by the Brewery Workers' Union headquarters in Vancouver that its bargaining committee had backed down on certain demands in an effort to bring about quick settlement and get the 430 strikers back to work.

"The union committee has retreated considerably from its original demands and has given consideration to the company's new demands for an extension to two and a half years of any agreement which can be reached," a union statement said.

The union would not disclose just how far it has retreated from its demand for a 35-cent-an-hour increase toward the company's offer of 25 cents.

In making the concession to consider a 2½-year contract, the union specified it would want such an agreement to contain a cost-of-living escalator clause and provision for reopening the general wage scale before the agreement's expiration date.

CHASE PHOTOGRAPHER

"The union's offer to compromise followed a four-hour bargaining session Wednesday night, which was believed to have been heated. Participants came away at midnight with short tempers. They refused to speak to newsmen and one photographer, who tried to take a picture, was chased by one angry delegate.

The union negotiating committee revealed that in meetings so far it had been forced to deal with company representatives and not brewery managers. The committee, it was reported, was endeavoring to arrange a direct meeting with managers later today.

Next scheduled meeting with company representatives is set for Friday at 2.

More Casualties Feared As Volcano Erupts Again

MANILA, Nov. 6 (AP)—Raging Hibok Hibok volcano spewed out a new rain of fiery ashes tonight in its fourth major blast in three days. Additional casualties were feared.

Official reports from the terror-stricken little south Philippines island of Camiguin said naval patrol boats moved close in shore to pick up survivors at Mambajoa on the northern coast.

The latest eruption from the mile-high inferno was reported to have occurred at 4 p.m. (3 a.m. E.S.T.).

Some 200 persons, mainly Chinese storekeepers and their families and Philippine army troops, had remained in Mambajoa.

So far 209 bodies have been recovered. Official estimates say 500 made probably are buried in a six-square-mile area covered by lava and volcanic ash.

POISONOUS FUMES

It may be a week before total casualties in Tuesday's eruption are known.

Poisonous fumes rising from molten lava and red-hot ash drove search crews from the stricken villages on the charred slopes of Hibok Hibok.

Two new blasts shook the volcano yesterday, feeding the sulphurous fall of smoke hanging like an umbrella over the mountain. They were the third and fourth eruptions.

able to hold by breath for 20 minutes.

"But take your time," he warned. "You don't want to die yet, do you?"

"I felt rather hurt, because my teacher seemed more concerned about the feelings of my friends than my death."

Like yourself, I look on these breathing exercises rather strangely. The only time we westerners are taught breath control is when we are learning to swim like fishes. Now, here comes a young man from the East who tells us we are all wrong. We should learn first to breathe properly on land.

And frankly, I think he's right. As an experiment to test the power of my lungs, I walked up a steep hill breathing only through my nose. I was snoring like a bull when I got on top. Now, imagine how difficult it would be trying to play a basketball game breathing through the nose only.

What is Swami's objective behind these exercises? Well, apart from health, he tells me it is the first step towards control of the mind.

What does he mean by control of the mind?

That would make another story.
